COME TO THE FAIR — Charles Rose, president of the Pickaway County Agricultural Society, takes one of the "CLOSED" signs down at the Fairgrounds Coliseum and prepares to dispose of it as a go-ahead signal was given by the State Fire Marshal's office. The Coliseum and other buildings at the Fairgrounds were closed several weeks ago for deficiencies, mostly electrical wiring, that impaired public safety. Rose and other Fair Board members have been working diligently in cooperation with the County Board of Commissioners to complete repairs before Fair Week. With necessary work completed, Rose removed the sign today as he chanted "Come to the Fair, opening Monday."

Thant, Soviets Discuss Viet

MOSCOW (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant discussed Viet Nam at length today with the No. 1 man in the Soviet collective leadership, Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev.

An official announcement on the meeting in the Kremlin said only that they talked about international problems and United Nations activities. Qualified sources said "international problems" boiled down to the war in Viet Nam.

Thant has been stressing the Viet Nam problem in his meetings here this week with Soviet leaders. He has frequently expressed his opinion that the international situation is grave.

Many improvements have taken place at the Fairgrounds during the past few weeks, including major repairs to correct wiring deficiencies. All buildings have received operational clearance from the State Fire Marshal's office, according to president Rose.

An abundance of youth activity is considered another outstanding feature of the Pickaway Fair. Youngsters in 4-H clubs, Future Farmers of America, Future Homemakers, Scouts and other groups go all out to display their accomplishments.

Much credit for this outstanding youthful phase goes to the Junior Fair Board, an elective body of boys and girls devoted to bringing about a successful exposition.

The week-long period of fun and frolic will get off to a rousing start 6 p. m. Monday when area Boy Scouts and the Teays Valley High School Band combine for a flag-raising ceremony. The first phase of a tractor pull at the Grandstand and a Junior Fair livestock judging contest in the show arena will follow at 8 p. m.

The traditional horseshoe pitching tournament will be held each evening, with quality.

still needs to be revamped and explosion proof light fixtures installed.

Because of the press of time, electricians working at the Fairgrounds have not been able to completely replace electrical circuits according to state building code specifications.

However, where the wiring has not yet been changed, it has been fused down to the capacity of the wire, McCaffrey pointed out.

With only minor exceptions, rubbish and debris found in storage rooms when inspectors first made a tour of the Fairgrounds June 14 have been eliminated.

One of the prime objections to the Coliseum at that time was the fact that exit doors were chained shut and panic bars were inoperative.

These have since been repaired or replaced by Arthur Maiden, groundskeeper.

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners granted the Agricultural Society permission to borrow funds from the Third National Bank to pay for necessary improvements in order that the Fair could be held this year.

"You wouldn't recognize the place now," McCaffrey said in describing progress accomplished by the Pickaway Agricultural Society.

"THEY have eliminated a large percentage of the hazards. But after the Fair they will have to keep on working," he said.

LBJ-Wilson Talks Delayed By Gun Scare

WASHINGTON (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Wilson went to the White House today to tell President Johnson about crisis efforts to save the pound sterling—but their meeting was delayed 15 minutes by a gun scare.

Wilson's press secretary, Trevor Lloyd Hughes, told reporters at the White House that Wilson's arrival for his talks with Johnson was delayed while police vainly searched a nearby building for a man reportedly seen entering carrying a rifle.

"They didn't find anyone there," Hughes said. "Nothing was found in the building."

The British press aide said a civilian passerby warned security guards outside Blair House, the federal guest house near the executive mansion, that he had seen a man with a gun enter an office building under construction half a block away. Wilson had spent the night at Blair House.

When Wilson did arrive at the White House, he was met by Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In addition to discussions about the pound sterling, some American officials were hopeful the British leader also might confide plans for new austerity moves in the month ahead.

3 Ohio Development Allocations Made

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Housing and Urban Development announced today these allocations:

$170,400 grant to Fort Clinton, Ohio, for water system expansion.

$388,000 grant funds reserved for Findlay, Ohio, for water system improvements.

LBJ Prods Bargainers

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson took over the airline strike negotiations today and told both sides he wants them to reach agreement through collective bargaining.

After a White House meeting with Johnson, 11 men from the management side and 11 from the union side marched across the street to the executive office building and went into session once more.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson set no deadline for action.

"He said," Moyers reported, "that collective bargaining is the free, democratic way of settling the differences you have this morning, that 'that's a better way than legislating the breaking of a strike, or seizure, or presidential fiat.'"

Moyers, talking with newsmen after sitting in on the original session in the Cabinet room, said Johnson feels that continued, prolonged negotiations now are no more likely to bring about a settlement than intensified, concentrated bargaining.

It appears, Moyers said, that the differences between labor and management have been narrowed to something less than $25 million. He said the companies have been offering about $60 million above present pay and benefit standards and the unions have come down on their demands to $80 million or a bit more.

Moyers told reporters the negotiators now are talking in terms of a 36-month contract instead of the 42 months suggested by a presidential emergency board and adopted by the carriers. He said the figures he used of $60-odd million and $80-odd million were on the basis of what the management and labor offers would cost over three years.

Later the President himself said "they aren't too far apart."

This was while he was chatting in the entry to the White House executive offices while waiting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk for the arrival of Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain.

"I was up practically all night with the strike," Johnson told Rusk. "I told them they could negotiate this better than Congress or the President."

Moving in on the negotiations with an after-midnight summons calling the parties to the White House, Johnson beat Congress to the punch on an effort to dump the dispute into his lap.

At the Capitol, the Senate Labor Committee went into unusually early session to round out a measure of its own aimed at ending the strike.

Housing Rights Debate Shelved

House To Resume Battle Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House tackles one of the less-controversial sections of the 12966 civil rights bill today, leaving the big battle over open housing until next week.

Four days of talking about the bill ended Thursday and the time for action on amendments now has arrived. Dozens are expected and it could take all of next week to bring the bill to a final vote.

The various sections of the bill will be considered in order, leaving housing—Title IV—to simmer in the background while the earlier ones are taken up.

On tap today were amendments to a section aimed at assuring that federal jurors are drawn from a full cross-section of the community. It has probably the broadest support of any title in the bill.

It also has opponents, however, including some federal judges who have made their views known to House members. They feel Congress is encroaching on their territory in writing jury selection legislation.

The bill would provide a uniform system for all judicial districts in which prospective jurors are drawn from a list of registered voters.

The bill also would provide that a person cannot be denied the right to serve on a federal jury because of his economic status, thereby ending so-called "blue ribbon" juries that function in some areas.

The qualifications for jurors would be the same as under present law.

The end of formal debate Thursday left the situation regarding the housing provision as confused as when it began. Neither the Democratic nor Republican leaders have been able to pin down enough of their members to determine how a vote would go.

U.S. Using Viet Screen, Soviet Says

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko charged today that the United States might use a Viet Nam peace conference to cloak further aggression.

At a news conference at the close of a week's visit to Japan, Gromyko said if a new Geneva conference were called "the United States might utilize it as a screen behind which to further its aggression."

Japanese Premier Eisaku Sato in talks with Gromyko sought to persuade the Russians to reverse their refusal to reconvene the 1954 Geneva conference, of which they are co-chairmen with the British. But Sato was no more successful than British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

The Russians have repeatedly said any call for a conference would have to come from North Viet Nam. Gromyko's charge against the United States was a new Soviet tack, possibly tailored for the Japanese public, which has been divided on the war.

No Serious Damage

Wind, Rain Pelt Circleville Area

An early evening thunderstorm Thursday dumped 1.34 inches of rain in the immediate Circleville area.

High winds and lightning at the outset of the down-pour caused numerous difficulties for utility companies. But no serious damage was reported.

Both electric companies, Columbus and Southern Ohio and South Central Power, had service outages as a result of lightning.

In Circleville there were only two areas affected, both of brief duration. David Winks said two sectional fuses were blown. They were replaced almost immediately.

S. J. FISHER of South Central reported individual line trouble and other minor difficulties kept crews working until midnight. The biggest single difficulty, he noted, resulted when a tree fell across a line at the Circleville substation which caused a "good-sized area" to be without service from about 5:30 until 7 p. m.

High winds were responsible for several trees being blown down and blocking traffic in at least two areas. The sheriff's department reported trees down on the Kingston Pike and Circleville-Tarleton Road.

General Telephone Co. also called work crews out to correct storm damage, according to Robert Keatley, local commercial manager for General.

Keatley said no major damage occurred as a result of the storm, but "there was a good bit of individual line trouble." Reports were still coming in this morning, Keatley said. All difficulties are expected to be cleared today.

Thursday's rainfall pushed the accumulation for July to 5.77 inches—1.88 inches above the normal 3.89 inches to date.

Double Loss Suffered to Defeat Reds

READING, Mass. (AP)—"The Communists have to be stopped somehow by someone," says a young Reading girl who has paid a high personal price—her fiancé and a brother killed a month apart in Viet Nam.

Saturday, Diane Croce, 22, will attend the funeral of her brother, Robert, 20, a Marine lance corporal who was killed July 15, four days after he arrived in Viet Nam.

On July 6, Diane saw the body of her fiancé, Navy corpsman George Cottrill, 20, buried in his home town of Chillicothe, Ohio. He was killed while serving with a Marine unit.

Cottrill and Diane met last July while he was stationed at the Chelsea Naval Hospital. They had planned to marry July 17.

She said they had a home picked out and were buying furniture when he got his order to go to Viet Nam. They postponed the wedding.

"We were going to live around here until he got out of the service," Diane said today recalling the plans "and then we would have lived anywhere he wanted to."

ALTHOUGH Thursday evening's thunderstorm brought welcome rain and relief from the heat, it also produced numerous difficulties.

Most of the problems created were of the nuisance variety. Strong winds accompanying the storm played havoc with outside household items not tied down or fastened.

Affected were such things as lawn furniture, garbage cans, toys and the like.

4 Families Own Homes, Not Land; Told To Move

WEST CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP)—Four families who own their homes—but not the land they are built on—are being forced to move.

All four families built houses on Werth Lane, a gravel street here, and paid $10 a month rent for the land to the owner, Willard Werth. Werth sold the land the new owner, Walter F. Oelman, sent notices to the tenants instructing them to leave by Monday.

"We bought this house for the kids," said Mrs. Ottilie Brooks, who paid $3,800 for the home in 1957, a year after the family moved from Germany. Since then they had dug a new well, spent $1,000 on siding and roofing.

"We thought it was a nice place for the kids," she said.

British Set To Freeze Prices, Pay

LONDON (AP)—The British government today announced a massive plan for a prices and wages freeze to be fully enforced by law. The economic policy is stiffer than any imposed on prices and wages in World War II or in the years that followed.

The proposals designed to save the pound sterling were promptly assailed by industry leaders and there was grumbling from unions.

There will be a general standstill on prices and incomes until the end of this year, followed by a six-month period of "severe restraint."

The proposals, contained in a white paper, will be written into the Labor government's projected prices and incomes bill aimed at stabilizing the economy.

At least six million workers—more than one in four—will lose pay increases currently due them. These include railway, electrical, gas and building trade workers and doctors.

The government will have powers to reverse prices or pay increases they consider unjustified after July 20.

Once Around Roundtown

ALTHOUGH Thursday evening's thunderstorm brought welcome rain and relief from the heat, it also produced numerous difficulties.

Most of the problems created were of the nuisance variety. Strong winds accompanying the storm played havoc with outside household items not tied down or fastened. Affected were such things as lawn furniture, garbage cans, toys and the like.

Embattled CIA Chieftain Should Resign, Solon Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., called today for the resignation of Richard M. Helms as director of the Central Intelligence Agency, despite Helms' apology to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

Helms told Fulbright he regretted a letter published over his name in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, expressing pleasure at an editorial critical of Fulbright, who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

As Helms was called before the committee today for questioning, Morse said he could best serve his country by resigning.

"Until he does," Morse said in a statement, "the American people cannot rest secure in the belief that the agency is living up to its legal mandate not to operate within the United States or influence or participate in affairs within the United States."

After disclosure of the letter triggered protests and criticism in the Senate, it was learned Helms telephoned Fulbright, apologized and told the senator in substance "it was a mistake and I regret it."

The Arkansas Democrat confirmed receiving the call from Helms. He said the CIA director told him "he was sorry and regretted the letter and said he didn't really feel that way about me."

"I was glad to hear that," Fulbright said.

The letter which touched off the controversy said: "I want to let you know of my pleasure in reading the editorial 'Brickbats for Fulbright' in the Globe-Democrat of July 8.

"It reflects so well your paper's policy of printing the news impartially, supporting what it believes to be right and opposing what it believes to be wrong, without regard to party politics."

The editorial concerned the Senate's action sidetracking an effort by the Foreign Relations Committee to gain a role in Senate supervision of the CIA.

News of World in Brief

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Gathering of micrometeorite "space dust" was the reason for the latest flight of the X-15 rocket plane.

Pilot Jack McKay eased the plane to 3,682 miles an hour at 238,000 feet — 45 miles — while gathering the tiny particles in a wing pod lined with adhesive plates.

U.S. space agency spokesmen said after the flight Thursday that the samples will be studied to determine dust distribution in space near earth.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attending physician says from all indications there is "nothing drastic or alarming" about the condition of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who is back in Walter Reed Army Hospital for what is described as a routine checkup.

The doctor said the general of the Army entered the hospital last week on a scheduled visit, returned to his Gettysburg, Pa., home for the weekend, then re-entered the hospital Monday.

After his presence became known publicly Thursday, a hospital spokesman said the former president is there for "routine follow-up studies regarding his arthritis and heart condition."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, saying Social Security no longer is adequate as the primary source of support for millions of older Americans, has introduced a bill to increase benefits.

The New York Democrat said Thursday an increased payroll tax and "a limited use of general revenue financing" could pay for the increase that would boost benefits by an average of 50 per cent by 1968.

Kennedy said the bill would ensure "a generally adequate level of benefits to all those who subsist on Social Security."

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say Red China probably will not enter the Viet Nam war because Peking understands U.S. policy is not aimed at the overthrow of the North Vietnamese government.

The U.S. officials told a group of city managers visiting the State Department Thursday that Red China has indicated it is much more likely to enter the conflict if the Hanoi regime is destroyed.

The officials also said neither

Red China nor the Soviet Union has increased their Viet Nam involvement much since U.S. air strikes on oil storage facilities near Hanoi and Haiphong began a month ago.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved legislation that would halt, at least temporarily, plans to extend the west front of the Capitol.

The measure, passed by a voice vote, prohibits using any funds pending an independent study of the cost of storing-up and restoring the present structure without changing its general appearance.

A five-member commission, including House Speaker John W. McCormack, has approved the extension project estimated to cost $34 million. It remains to be seen whether the House will accept the Senate action.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a $10-billion authorization to continue the nation's highway programs for the 1968-69 fiscal year, but the bill's floor manager said increasing costs will require more funds in the immediate future to keep the programs on schedule.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., said Thursday new efforts must be made to meet the mounting costs. At the same time, the Bureau of Public Roads announced that highway construction costs rose 4.3 per cent during the April-June quarter of this year, boosting the construction index to 113.7 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

Stock Prices Lower Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite strength in airlines, the stock market headed lower early this afternoon.

Trading dragged to the slowest pace of the week.

Stocks were up a little on balance most of the morning even as industrial as a group lagged behind the over-all list. The advancing airlines failed to attract much of a following, however, and more minus signs appeared.

The airlines themselves were up 1 or 2 points at the best as President Johnson took over airline strike negotiations and told both sides he wants them to reach agreement through collective bargaining.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .4 at 307.3 with industrials off .8, rails unchanged and utilities off .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.34 at 850.72.

U.S. Planes Hit North Viet In 375 Sorties

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American pilots gave North Viet Nam its heaviest pounding of the war Thursday with more than 375 strike sorties against targets from the 17th Parallel to a missile site near Haiphong.

The cost was one Navy jet shot down by ground fire. The Reds fired only three of their Soviet-built surface-to-air missiles, and all missed, a U.S. military spokesman said.

An Air Force F100 Super Sabre jet fighter was shot down on a strafing run 35 miles southwest of Saigon this afternoon and the pilot was killed, the spokesman said. He reported heavy ground fire in the area.

The plane was the 119th reported lost in combat in the South, exclusive of helicopters.

Clearing weather and a heavy concentration of Navy planes and Marine aircraft which started flying bombing runs against North Viet Nam 30 days ago enabled the Americans to send up about 60 more sorties than had previously been flown in one day against the North. A sortie is one attack flight by one plane.

U.S. spokesmen do not reveal the number of sorties flown over the North. Instead they use the vague term "missions" which can mean any number of aircraft against any number of targets. The practice is designed to keep exact information from the Hanoi regime.

However, qualified sources said that the number of sorties Thursday was in excess of 375. The previous high was about 315 sorties flown July 15. The figure in recent weeks has averaged 250 to 300 daily.

The targets hit Thursday included a missile site only four miles from Haiphong, deep inside what pilots call the "missile envelope" around the vital Hanoi-Haiphong area.

But the number of SAM missiles sighted was surprisingly small.

There were no reported sightings of the Soviet-built MIGs which lately have shown increased willingness to do battle against the raiding Americans.

The targets included a rich haul of coastal craft, including an 80-foot barge and a 130-foot harbor tug which was blasted in coastal waters east of Haiphong. The "bomb damage reports" listed 13 petroleum supply dumps left blazing.

The U.S. command announced previously that an A4 Skyhawk and its pilot from the carrier Oriskany were missing on a raid Thursday near Vinh, 140 miles above the 17th Parallel. Another carrier-based Skyhawk went down near Vinh today, the spokesman said. No parachute was sighted and the pilot was listed as missing.

It was the 312th U.S. plane reported lost over North Viet Nam.

Johnson's action came as negotiators talked into the early morning at the Labor Department, which announced "some progress" but no tentative contract agreement between the striking machinists' union and the five grounded airlines.

There was no immediate indication how Johnson's move would affect the confused situation in Congress.

The Senate Labor Committee was to complete action on one bill to give Johnson authority to stop the strike, while Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., planned to take a stiffer proposal to the Senate floor.

In the House, Labor Committee Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., scheduled a new hearing on the strike.

The strike, crippling 60 per cent of the nation's air traffic, unleashed a flood of critical mail on the heads of members of Congress and officials of the Johnson administration, and posed a touchy congressional election year quandary.

Serious economic losses piled up in many parts of the nation. Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, declined to say whether Johnson now would keep the negotiations under his thumb, as he did to avert a threatened nationwide railroad strike in 1964 and a steel strike threat last year.

Johnson's decision to try his own persuasive brand of labor mediation was announced by the White House at 2:30 a. m. after frequent telephone consultations with the Labor Department on the progress of negotiations.

The cautious report of some progress by Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds was the first hopeful note in the deadlocked negotiations in two weeks.

Johnson has no legal authority to halt the strike under existing law.

The Senate Labor Committee voted Thursday to empower Johnson to order the strikers back to work for as many as three 60-day cooling-off periods. The committee was to wrap up details on the bill for Senate action today.

The Morse Bill, rejected by the committee, would have Congress rather than the President order the 35,000 striking machinists back to work for six months.

Staff Head Resigns Post With PCCAO

Designation of the staff director was a key item of business during a meeting Thursday of the Pickaway County Community Action Organization.

Mrs. William G. Huber tendered her resignation as director of the program effective Sept. 1. She had accepted the post earlier on a "limited basis" to get the Head Start Program under way this summer.

It was understood when Mrs. Huber was hired that she would hold the position for about five months. The board of directors also received and accepted the resignation of Mrs. Sue Hostetter as clerk - bookkeeper.

Applications for both jobs are available through Fritz Jacobs' office at Circleville High School. Jacobs is secretary of the PCCAO.

Staff director qualifications call for a college degree or equivalent, an ability to work with people and experience in urban and rural work.

Migrant Worker, 21, Is Shot; Pair Held

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Ramiro Martinez, 21, a migrant worker, was reported in poor condition today at Fremont Memorial Hospital after a shooting earlier at a farm about five miles north of here.

Martinez, of McMullen, Tex., was shot in the chest and face at the Russell Gonyea farm on Ohio 53 near the Sandusky-Ottawa County line.

Sandusky County Sheriff Daniel Taas said he was holding two other migrant workers in connection with the shooting.

Embattled CIA Chieftain Should Resign, Solon Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., called today for the resignation of Richard M. Helms as director of the Central Intelligence Agency, despite Helms' apology to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

Helms told Fulbright he regretted a letter published over his name in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, expressing pleasure at an editorial critical of Fulbright, who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

As Helms was called before the committee today for questioning, Morse said he could best serve his country by resigning.

"Until he does," Morse said in a statement, "the American people cannot rest secure in the belief that the agency is living up to its legal mandate not to operate within the United States or influence or participate in affairs within the United States."

After disclosure of the letter triggered protests and criticism in the Senate, it was learned Helms telephoned Fulbright, apologized and told the senator in substance "it was a mistake and I regret it."

The Arkansas Democrat confirmed receiving the call from Helms. He said the CIA director told him "he was sorry and regretted the letter and said he didn't really feel that way about me."

"I was glad to hear that," Fulbright said.

The letter which touched off the controversy said: "I want to let you know of my pleasure in reading the editorial 'Bricksbats for Fulbright' in the Globe-Democrat of July 8."

"It reflects so well your paper's policy of 'printing the news impartially, supporting what it believes to be right and opposing what it believes to be wrong, without regard to party politics.'"

The editorial concerned the Senate's action sidetracking an effort by the Foreign Relations Committee to gain a role in Senate supervision of the CIA.

News of World in Brief

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Gathering of micrometeorite "space dust" was the reason for the latest flight of the X15 rocket plane.

Pilot Jack McKay eased the plane to 3,682 miles an hour at 238,000 feet — 45 miles — while gathering the tiny particles in a wing pod lined with adhesive plates.

U.S. space agency spokesmen said after the flight Thursday that the samples will be studied to determine dust distribution in space near earth.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attending physician says from all indications there is "nothing drastic or alarming" about the condition of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who is back in Walter Reed Army Hospital for what is described as a routine checkup.

The doctor said the general of the Army entered the hospital last week on a scheduled visit, returned to his Gettysburg, Pa., home for the weekend, then re-entered the hospital Monday.

After his presence became known publicly Thursday, a hospital spokesman said the former president is there for "routine follow-up studies regarding his arthritis and heart condition."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, saying Social Security no longer is adequate as the primary source of support for millions of older Americans, has introduced a bill to increase benefits.

The New York Democrat said Thursday an increased payroll tax and "a limited use of general revenue financing" could pay for the increase that would boost benefits by an average of 50 percent by 1968.

Kennedy said the bill would ensure "a generally adequate level of benefits to all those who subsist on Social Security."

Staff Head Resigns Post With PCCAO

Designation of the staff director was a key item of business during a meeting Thursday of the Parkway County Community Action Organization.

Mrs. William G. Huber tendered her resignation as director of the program effective Sept. 1. She had accepted the post earlier on a "limited basis" to get the Head Start Program under way this summer.

Staff director qualifications call for a college degree or equivalent, an ability to work with people and experience in urban and rural work.

TWO more trustee offices were vacated during the meeting. Richard Snouffer, who will be moving to Delaware resigned as trustee in addition to Ralph Starkey who submitted his resignation due to "pressures of business."

At the same time Mrs. Jasper Hedges and Dr. David Goldschmidt were appointed to fill vacancies on the board of trustees.

Other items on the agenda included confirmation of the program development grant's extension. However, an increase in the funds was denied because funds in Ohio have been "over allocated."

A review of the salary schedule for personnel involved in the Head Start program received consideration by the committee. Recommendations will be made at the next meeting.

Also at the August meeting recommendations will be considered for the staff director and clerk - bookkeeper positions.

Baltimore Quells White Supremacists

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Gangs of white youths numbering from 50 to 100 ranged through Negro neighborhoods in search of victims Thursday night shortly after white supremacist speakers had whipped them into a frenzy at a rally.

Police had the situation under control in about two hours, but beefed-up patrols roamed through the area into the morning.

Baltimore has been labeled as the target city for 1966 by the Congress of Racial Equality, but CORE rallies have attracted only small audiences.

In comparison, Thursday night's rally by the National States Rights party at Patterson Park drew a crowd estimated at about 1,000. The group had been denied permission earlier to use the park, but speakers stood on top of a sound truck parked in the street as their audience spilled up the grassy slopes.

The sporadic trouble that plagued the southeast Baltimore area until late Thursday night began shortly after the rally sound trucks closed down about 8 p.m.

As the crowd broke up, a cluster of white youths surrounded Robert Kaufman, a self-proclaimed Socialist, and about a dozen of his companions. Police quickly formed a cordon around them and escorted them from the area, but eggs were tossed and before the group had gotten a block away, the crowd had grown larger, louder and more belligerent.

Riot police and officers with dogs were rushed to the scene. Plain clothesmen, who had been mingling with the crowd dressed in dirty T-shirts and jeans began pinning on badges.

The show of force stopped any immediate threat of violence, but the mob broke up into smaller groups and began ranging through side streets and into predominantly Negro areas.

One Negro boy walking his dog was set upon by a group of about 100 whites and knocked to the ground before police rescued him.

White men rode in two cars into a block of Negro residences, shouting racial slurs. When the cars were stopped by traffic at an intersection, Negro residents hurled bottles at the cars. But traffic began moving again and the cars moved on. No one was hurt.

Views on Television — Radio

(For Cynthia Lowry)

EDITOR'S NOTE — John Charles Daly, in addition to his long-playing chores as host of "What's My Line?" is a veteran broadcast journalist and news executive. Here he sets down some opinions and observations of the television scene.

NEW YORK (AP) — I am exceedingly loath to join the host of television critics. But, as a long-time trend spotter, I cannot refrain from noting a new lift that is creeping insidiously onto the airways.

It is a lenience designed to accommodate, or reflect, the new freedoms. It is opening the doors to a type of material that even a few years ago would have been consigned to the wastebasket in the office of continuity acceptance, TV's self-censors.

It starts with the voluptuary on the bearskin rug and will end heaven knows where. At present a large number of performers in one-minute commercials spend substantial time discussing the desirability and frequency of the most intimate personal relationship between the sexes. The remainder archly insist they were only referring to the product of the sponsor.

There are other examples, some of them too unprintable to print. Not many. But they are there, blue as the night club joke and suggestive as the perfume ads in the slick magazines. When the leer is fully commercialized, who can doubt that the direct statement is far behind. We have not yet arrived at the explicit to American television, but a beginning is being made and the theater has already demonstrated that from small four-letter words, big splashes of pure vulgarity grow.

I'm a nine-letter word man, myself. Tarnation, for instance, as in "What in tarnation goes on here?"

I have, in fact, been accused by some viewers, probably justifiably, of being addicted to word, in the interest, it is alleged, of obscurity, confusion and obfuscation.

Recently, one set-side critic sent us scampering to the dictionary with the following acidulous suggestion: "If you are to persist in using multisyllabic words when short ones would serve just as well, if not better, why don't you go the whole way and have your name changed legally to Sesqui P. Daly?"

(Another editor's note — To save the reader a trip to the dictionary, that's a pun — "sesquipedalia" means "a very long word.")

"What's My Line?" will have color in September and the lighting engineers tell me I will have to discard the bow tie I have worn on the program for 10 years. In color, they say, the hole worn in the knot will show.

Finally, the television weather reporters—who, to paraphrase Churchill, have not always been wrong — have the latest technology working for them — radar, doppler systems, the Tiros satellite, and now the new stretch computer. But I have an acquaintance in the trade who has a sure thing he recommends to guide you for the summer months: "Just look out the window and if it isn't raining, go!"

Demo Club Meets Here

Pickaway County Democratic Women's Club held a luncheon Wednesday at Pickaway Arms to nominate officers for the coming year.

Several candidates for offices in the November election were present for the luncheon. They included Michael Acton, Lancaster, who is running for the state senate; Myrl Shoemaker and his wife, Chillicothe, seeking the state representative's post; Dick Tootle, county commission candidate; Marvin Rhoades, county auditor candidate; and Mrs. Ottilie Reno, representing her senatorial candidate husband.

Workshop Urged For Juveniles

DALLAS (AP) — The head of the Dallas Crime Commission, John McKee, says the city should build a workshop to help rehabilitate the increasing number of juvenile lawbreakers no matter what it might cost.

He said juveniles account for nearly half the major crimes in Dallas, and that the number of repeat offenders shows that "our basic system in handling the problem today is wrong."

McKee said the city and county could go in together to build the prison workshop to teach juvenile offenders a trade.

Youngstown OKs City Aide Wage Boost

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—City council passed by a 6-1 vote Thursday night an emergency salary ordinance giving 1,350 city employees an across-the-board 10 per cent wage increase.

The wage increase followed a two-day strike by almost 400 city employees which tied up vital city services.

Total cost of the wage-increase package will be about $370,000 over the next 17 months.

About 900 employees, including police and firemen, are paid out of the city's general fund. Their increases would total about $600,000. The remaining $270,000 for some 450 additional employees will come from water bill receipts, and gasoline, license plate and sewage taxes.

Employees will get an immediate 5 per cent pay increase Aug. 1 and an additional 5 per cent raise next Jan. 1.

Agreement on the pay increase came early Thursday morning in city council chambers following a marathon bargaining session between city officials and representatives of the striking sanitation, street and water department employees.

Policemen, Firemen Plan Demonstrations

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Members of Toledo's police force, firefighters and other city employees planned to demonstrate at three public places today to publicize their proposals for pay increases.

The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, City Employees Local 7 and Firefighters Local 92 seek a commitment by Monday from the city administration on salary adjustments.

Baltimore Quells White Supremacists

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Gangs of white youths numbering from 50 to 100 ranged through Negro neighborhoods in search of victims Thursday night shortly after white supremacist speakers had whipped them into a frenzy at a rally.

Police had the situation under control in about two hours, but beefed-up patrols roamed through the area into the morning.

Baltimore has been labeled as the target city for 1966 by the Congress of Racial Equality, but CORE rallies have attracted only small audiences.

In comparison, Thursday night's rally by the National States Rights party at Patterson Park drew a crowd estimated at about 1,000. The group had been denied permission earlier to use the park, but speakers stood on top of a sound truck parked in the street as their audience spilled up the grassy slopes.

The sporadic trouble that plagued the southeast Baltimore area until late Thursday night began shortly after the rally sound trucks closed down about 8 p.m.

As the crowd broke up, a cluster of white youths surrounded Robert Kaufman, a self-proclaimed Socialist, and about a dozen of his companions. Police quickly formed a cordon around them and escorted them from the area, but eggs were tossed and before the group had gotten a block away, the crowd had grown larger, louder and more belligerent.

Riot police and officers with dogs were rushed to the scene. Plain clothesmen, who had been mingling with the crowd dressed in dirty T-shirts and jeans began pinning on badges.

The show of force stopped any immediate threat of violence, but the mob broke up into smaller groups and began ranging through side streets and into predominantly Negro areas.

One Negro boy walking his dog was set upon by a group of about 100 whites and knocked to the ground before police rescued him.

White men rode in two cars into a block of Negro residences, shouting racial slurs. When the cars were stopped by traffic at an intersection, Negro residents hurled bottles at the cars. But traffic began moving again and the cars moved on. No one was hurt.

Bank Staff Has Picnic

The Second National Bank's annual staff picnic was held Wednesday at Marion State Park and Hargus Lake.

Following the outing at the state park, the group had dinner at the Wardell Party Home.

Attending were Durward D. Dowden; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gerhardt; Mr. and Mrs. George Meyers; Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Palm and children; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wilson and children; Elva J. Hoplite; Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Jenkins; Joann L. Lemley; Patricia Moss; Mrs. Marguerite Shelton and daughter; Miriam E. Weaver and Mary E. Weffler.

Views on Television — Radio

(For Cynthia Lowry)
EDITOR'S NOTE — John Charles Daly, in addition to his long-playing chores as host of "What's My Line?" is a veteran broadcast journalist and news executive. Here he sets down some opinions and observations of the television scene.

NEW YORK (AP) — I am exceedingly loath to join the host of television critics. But, as a long-time trend spotter, I cannot refrain from noting a new lift that is creeping insidiously onto the airways.

It is a lenience designed to accommodate, or reflect, the new freedoms. It is opening the doors to a type of material that even a few years ago would have been consigned to the wastebasket in the office of continuity acceptance, TV's self-censors.

It starts with the voluptuary on the bearskin rug and will end heaven knows where. At present a large number of performers in one-minute commercials spend substantial time discussing the desirability and frequency of the most intimate personal relationship between the sexes. The remainder archly insist they were only referring to the product of the sponsor.

There are other examples, some of them too unprintable to print. Not many. But they are there, blue as the night club joke and suggestive as the perfume ads in the slick magazines. When the leer is fully commercialized, who can doubt that the direct statement is far behind. We have not yet arrived at the explicit to American television, but a beginning is being made and the theater has already demonstrated that from small four-letter words, big splashes of pure vulgarity grow.

I'm a nine-letter word man, myself. Tarnation, for instance, as in "What in tarnation goes on here?"

I have, in fact, been accused by some viewers, probably justifiably, of being addicted to word, in the interest, it is alleged, of obscurity, confusion and obfuscation.

Recently, one set-side critic sent us scampers with the dictionary with the following acidulous suggestion: "If you are to persist in using multisyllabic words when short ones would serve just as well, if not better, why don't you go the whole way and have your name changed legally to Sesqui P. Daly?"

(Another editor's note — To save the reader a trip to the dictionary, that's a pun — "sesquipedalia" means "a very long word.")

"What's My Line?" will have color in September and the lighting engineers tell me I will have to discard the bow tie I have worn on the program for 10 years. In color, they say, the hole worn in the knot will show.

Finally, the television weather reporters—who, to paraphrase Churchill, have not always been wrong — have the latest technology working for them — radar, doppler systems, the Tiro satellite, and now the new stretch computer. But I have an acquaintance in the trade who has a sure thing he recommends to guide you for the summer months: "Just look out the window and if it isn't raining, go!"

Reaping the Whirlwind

By John Chamberlain

A nation's behavior is all of a piece. If its internal attitude is one thing, its foreign policy will hardly be another. And when it gives evidence of having a split personality at home, it will be correspondingly and perhaps fatally inconsistent in its dealings with countries that lie overseas.

Looking at the internal face of America, it is obvious that we are beginning to reap the whirlwind that comes from sowing the wind. People have been taught in recent years that the criminal mind isn't really criminal, but merely the blameless sum of conditioning influences. You are what your genes, your glands, your family surroundings, and your general environment made you, and it is up to "society" to "understand" you in whatever you may do. Author Truman Capote has just made a mint of money out of a "fact" novel called "In Cold Blood" which seeks to explain in understanding terms just how two killers came to perpetrate a nasty deed.

I am not against understanding, and no doubt Mr. Capote's novel was worth writing. But a paradox is involved in this business of attempting to explain the criminal in terms of social and Freudian forces that may be too much for him to handle. As a practical matter, society must hold people responsible for their acts no matter what has motivated those acts.

As of the moment of writing, not too much is known about the circumstances surrounding the massacre in Chicago of eight student nurses by one lone man. But isn't it a judgment of sorts that nine girls (including the one that got away from the killer) couldn't use eighteen hands to keep a single crazed male from picking them off one by one?

The curious — and perhaps revealing — thing about the slayings is that they apparently involved the unfortunate victory of a prevailing American attitude over the far more healthy attitude of three nurses who happened to come from an Asiatic country, the Philippines. According to Filipino Consul General Generoso Provido, Miss Corazon Amurao, the sole survivor among the nine women who were attacked by the killer, was all for offering some strenuous resistance. And the two other Filipina nurses joined her in urging a group gang up on the menacing intruder.

It was the American student nurses who counseled caution. "Let's not start anything that will make this one do something crazy," one of them is quoted as saying. And so a psychopath was enabled to murder eight women by taking them from the room in order and stabbing or strangling them. Miss Amurao escaped by hiding under a bed.

There could be a text in all this. Doesn't the whole Chicago nightmare go to prove that Americans, in their zeal to "understand" the "victim of society," have more and more lost their capacity for righteous anger and their will to resist what used to be called evil intentions. There is, of course, such a thing as prudence. But when the power of eighteen pairs of hands remains unused as it is threatened by the power of a single menacing individual, prudence has indeed become a caricature.

The trouble with Americans is that they have lost the sense of righteous indignation when their persons and their rights and their traditional moral code (the Ten Commandments) are threatened. I have a friend who adheres to an older way of looking at things. He has a daughter who went to a school in which a few loutish boys sometimes took liberties with the girls. When his daughter asked him what to do if she were molested on the stairs, he told her to give the offending boy a good swift butt with her knee. One day, when a boy bothered her, the daughter took her father's advice. She was not bothered again. But another girl, more cautious and propitiously, found herself brutally attacked by that same boy at a later date.

To jump from the internal face of America to the realm of foreign policy, aren't too many of us refraining from righteous indignation over the colossal nerve of Ho Chi Minh when he threatens to try captured American airmen for "violation of the laws of war?" Who started the war in South Vietnam, anyway? The only way to handle a Ho Chi Minh is to tell him we'll blow the dikes of his Red River to hell if he touches a hair of a captured U.S. airman's head. Ho Chi Minh and the man who killed the eight student nurses in Chicago may both need "understanding." But when "understanding" leads to paralysis, it means the will to survive is gone.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

GUSTAVUS MEYERS, in his fascinating "History of the Great American Fortunes," tells of the epic fights between Cornelius Vanderbilt of the New York Central and Jay Gould of the Erie, for passenger and freight traffic between the Great Lakes area and New York. When the fight started, the standard rate for transporting a carload of cattle from Buffalo to New York was $125. Vanderbilt slashed it to $100. Gould retaliated by posting a figure of $75. The price kept dropping until Vanderbilt contemptuously announced that the Central's new rate would be one dollar a carload.

Of course shippers flocked to take advantage of this ridiculous offer, and Gould apparently was relegated to the role of the forgotten man. One day, however, an interesting new fact came to light. The wily Gould had been buying thousands of head of cattle himself in the middle-Western markets, and was shipping them to New York at one dollar a carload through the courtesy of his hated rival, Vanderbilt of the New York Central!

People are deserting poor old New York town for a variety of dependable reasons these parous times, but Harriet Van Horne overheard a new one from a doughty dowager the other A.M.: "I simply can no longer endure the sort of young men one sees walking dogs in the East 50's nowadays!"

This beguiling ad was run recently in San Juan newspaper: "For sale cheap: adorable kittens. Mother Persian. Father from good neighborhood."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Q: What is acne?

A: Acne is a condition that affects the skin in areas where there are numerous oily, or sebaceous glands. The skin of the face, back and chest are the most common sites for acne.

Acne is of course, most common at puberty and is said to affect almost 80 per cent of all adolescents.

Q: Why does it occur particularly during adolescence?

A: In boys and girls at puberty there is an alteration and imbalance of the sex hormones. It is believed that this temporary change in the hormone balance overstimulates the sebaceous glands and causes them to produce an excess of oily wax.

Q: Are there different types and grades of severity of acne?

A: There is no definite classification, but acne is considered as being of two types. There is the simple acne and the more complex variety where infection is predominant.

There are also vague gradations of acne. Grade 1 is the type that does not last long and does not leave any severe after-effects. Grade 2 is slightly more severe but does not leave any noticeable scarring of the face.

In Grade 3 and 4 there is severe inflammation and irritation of the skin and underlying tissue. If neglected permanent scars and pits of the skin result.

Q: Are there any other causes of acne?

A: There are many associated reasons for this condition. Fatigue, vitamin deficiency, drugs, excessive sweets, allergy, emotional stress and a poorly balanced diet can help to flare up an attack of acne. Sometimes there is a temptation to pick and squeeze blackheads and pimples which then form small cysts and pus pockets. The staphylococcus germ that normally lives on the skin invades the tissue hurt by squeezing and only complicates acne with infection.

Q: Can acne be prevented?

A: Diligent cleanliness using non-irritating soaps, is an excellent preventative. Warm applications to small cysts, plus pockets and blackheads are soothing and far less irritating than vigorous scrubbing and squeezing.

Q: How can acne best be treated?

A: Patience, perseverance and gentleness are an ideal combination. Over the counter mail-order, "secret special and magical formulas" are expensive and harmful because they delay seeking the advice of a physician.

Hormones, cortisones and antibiotics are chosen with special care for the needs of each individual patient.

Soaps which contain hexachlorophene are soothing and help to destroy some of the bacteria which complicates acne. Dermatologists, specialists in skin diseases, sometimes use small doses of X-ray to reduce the activity of the oil producing glands. They are most careful to use it only in cases where the need is particularly great.

The distress of youngsters with acne is great. Children deserve and need the sympathetic understanding of parents who themselves were just as unhappy during their own adolescent phase.

An ice pack is less expensive than a sirloin steak for a black eye.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rising interest rates in Europe are a stumbling block for those who are clamoring for Congress to cut interest rates in the United States.

Europe gets into the domestic debate this way: Europe's much higher rates could attract more U.S. dollars seeking higher yields. Lowering interest rates here on short-term money could send this pool of temporarily idle dollars — usually called "hot money" — overseas.

And this would make it just that much harder for the United States to see that the dollar doesn't fall into the dire straits that beset the British pound.

The guardians of the dollar's status of being as good as gold are having plenty of trouble now, even with the interest rates at home still on the climb.

For one thing, the U.S. trade gap in narrowing. Exports still top imports, but by less than they did in previous years. Imports are growing at a 15 per cent clip, and exports by only 8 per cent. This cuts the balance of trade to around $4 billion this year, against more than $5 billion last year and $6 billion in 1964.

This means fewer dollars that the United States can use to offset its rising dollar-spending abroad for other things such as the Viet Nam War, foreign aid, private investments, tourist travel. The guardians of the dollar aren't anxious to see the U.S. balance of payments deficit — already rising this year — boosted by a flight of dollars seeking higher interest yields overseas.

There are a lot of dollars over there now, called Eurodollars, with the total estimated as high as $9 billion. These are in private rather than foreign government hands, and were built up in the years that the United States has run a payments deficit.

Eurodollars are used to finance many private deals, including plant expansion overseas. The interest rates at which they can be borrowed swings widely, reflecting the ease or tightness of the international money market.

Higher interest rates here has brought some dollars home, along with some foreign money deposits and investments. But the recent upturn in European interest rates is halting that trend.

At home the debate over interest rates divides like this: Seeking easier money and congressional curbs on interest rates are those alarmed at the sharp rise in the cost of new mortgages for homes, at the higher monthly payments for the purchase of a car, at the increasing cost of financing business expansion, at higher rates for community borrowing to build new schools.

But tight money advocates see high interest rates as needed to halt inflation and rising living costs, to prevent overheating of a booming economy with a bust as the aftermath, as a means of holding down the U.S. balance of payments deficits and thus protecting the standing of the dollar.

How You Faring in Rat Race?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Have you wondered how you're faring in the rat race lately?

Well, maybe it's time for a periodic checkup. Sometimes you're the last to find out that you've slipped a few rungs down the ladder of success.

Keeping face is important. The only face you can lose is your own; once lost, it is difficult to get it back.

Here's a little guide to help you see where you stand in the pecking order. The chances are that you are still doing okay if—

The manager of the local supermarket is glad to cash your wife's checks whenever you need some quick walking-round money.

Your kids don't have to get their Christmas toys from the local firehouse.

When your son flunks out of college, you are consoled by the fact that at least it was a good college, not a second-rate one.

Your barber will hold his chair open for a full 10 minutes — not just five — if you're late for an appointment.

The office bootblack doesn't mind letting you charge a shine now and then.

At a business lunch you don't hesitate to be the first to order a second martini out of fear that your associates may think you're drinking too much.

There are more pounds of steak than hamburger in your home freezer.

You have a two-car garage, a 2½-bathroom home and take vacations winters as well as summers.

At least three other people in the firm are worried that you are out to get their job.

In an emergency you can take $25 out of the petty cash fund without writing a five-page letter explaining why.

You can use your personal key to the executive washroom without feeling self-conscious about it.

ORDINANCE NO. 44-66
AN ORDINANCE MAKING IT UNLAWFUL TO DISTURB THE GOOD ORDER AND QUIET OF THE CITY BY MAKING IT UNLAWFUL TO MAKE UNNECESSARY NOISES THEREIN

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Circleville, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to disturb the good order and quiet of the city by making unnecessary noises as hereinafter described, to-wit:

(a) By making unnecessary noise through the squealing of tires on pavement and accelerating or stopping a motor vehicle unless such noise is made necessary by an emergency.

(b) By unnecessarily racing the motor of a motor vehicle in such a manner as to cause the muffler or tailpipe on such vehicle, whether it be an automobile, truck or motorcycle, to make a loud and unnecessary noise regardless of the type of muffler or tailpipe which may be upon said vehicle.

(c) By unnecessarily creating other noises of any kind of nature through the use of a motor vehicle of any type whatsoever and may be unnecessary in the operation of said motor vehicle.

SECTION 2. Any person found guilty of violating Section 1 of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and for the first offense shall be fined not less than $10.00 or more than $50.00 and for any subsequent offenses occurring within any two year period shall be fined not less than $50.00 or more than $100.00.

SECTION 3. That any ordinance or parts of any ordinance inconsistent herewith shall be, and they hereby are, repealed to the extent of such inconsistency.

SECTION 4. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed July 19, 1966.
Attest: (s) Robert J. Shadley
Clerk
Approved July 19, 1966.
(s) Ben H. Gordon
Mayor
July 22, 28.

The boss makes a daily bet with you on the outcome of baseball games, and likes to tell you all his home troubles.

When you present a new idea at a staff conference, nobody knocks it until he first sees how the head of the firm likes it.

You are important enough to have your own parking place in the company lot.

You no longer feel it is necessary to carry a brief case home every night to impress anyone with how hard you are working.

You can't seem to get more than five hours of sleep a night, and you munch two packages of antacid stomach pills a day instead of one.

Yep, brother, you're riding high. You've got what counts — status in your time.

Reaping the Whirlwind

A nation's behavior is all of a piece. If its internal attitude is one thing, its foreign policy will be another. And when it gives evidence of having a split personality at home, it will be correspondingly and perhaps fatally inconsistent in its dealings with countries that lie overseas.

Looking at the internal face of America, it is obvious that we are beginning to reap the whirlwind that comes from sowing the wind. People have been taught in recent years that the criminal mind isn't really criminal, but merely the blameless sum of conditioning influences. You are what your genes, your glands, your family surroundings, and your general environment made you, and it is up to "society" to "understand" you in whatever you may do. Author Truman Capote has just made a mint of money out of a "fact" novel called "In Cold Blood" which seeks to explain in understanding terms just how two killers came to perpetrate a nasty deed.

I am not against understanding, and no doubt Mr. Capote's novel was worth writing. But a paradox is involved in this business of attempting to explain the criminal in terms of social and Freudian forces that may be too much for him to handle. As a practical matter, society must hold people responsible for their acts no matter what has motivated those acts.

As of the moment of writing, not too much is known about the circumstances surrounding the massacre in Chicago of eight student nurses by one lone man. But isn't it a judgment of sorts that nine girls (including the one that got away from the killer) couldn't use eighteen hands to keep a single crazed male from picking them off one by one?

The curious — and perhaps revealing — thing about the slayings is that they apparently involved the unfortunate victory of a prevailing American attitude over the far more healthy attitude of three nurses who happened to come from an Asiatic country, the Philippines. According to Filipino Consul General Generoso Provido, Miss Corazon Amurao, the sole survivor among the nine women who were attacked by the killer, was all for offering some strenuous resistance. And the two other Filipina nurses joined her in urging a group gang up on the menacing intruder.

It was the American student nurses who counselled caution. "Let's not start anything that will make this one do something crazy," one of them is quoted as saying. And so a psychopath was enabled to murder eight women by taking them from the room in order and stabbing or strangling them. Miss Amurao escaped by hiding under a bed.

There could be a text in all this. Doesn't the whole Chicago nightmare go to prove that Americans, in their zeal to "understand" the "victim of society," have more and more lost their capacity for righteous anger and their will to resist what used to be called evil intentions. There is, of course, such a thing as prudence. But when the power of eighteen pairs of hands remains unused as it is threatened by the power of a single menacing individual, prudence has indeed become a caricature.

The trouble with Americans is that they have lost the sense of righteous indignation when their persons and their rights and their traditional moral code (the Ten Commandments) are threatened. I have a friend who adheres to an older way of looking at things. He has a daughter who went to a school in which a few loutish boys sometimes took liberties with the girls. When his daughter asked him what to do if she were molested on the stairs, he told her to give the offending boy a good swift butt with her knee. One day, when a boy bothered her, the daughter took her father's advice. She was not bothered again. But another girl, more cautious and propitiatory, found herself brutally attacked by that same boy at a later date.

To jump from the internal face of America to the realm of foreign policy, aren't too many of us refraining from righteous indignation over the colossal nerve of Ho Chi Minh when he threatens to try captured American airmen for "violation of the laws of war?" Who started the war in South Vietnam, anyway? The only way to handle a Ho Chi Minh is to tell him we'll blow the dikes of his Red River to hell if he touches a hair of a captured U.S. airman's head. Ho Chi Minh and the man who killed the eight student nurses in Chicago may both need "understanding." But when "understanding" leads to paralysis, it means the will to survive is gone.

GUSTAVUS MEYERS, in his fascinating "History of the Great American Fortunes," tells of the epic fights between Cornelius Vanderbilt of the New York Central and Jay Gould of the Erie, for passenger and freight traffic between the Great Lakes area and New York. When the fight started, the standard rate for transporting a carload of cattle from Buffalo to New York was $125. Vanderbilt slashed it to $100. Gould retaliated by posting a figure of $75. The price kept dropping until Vanderbilt contemptuously announced that the Central's new rate would be one dollar a carload.

Of course shippers flocked to take advantage of this ridiculous offer, and Gould apparently was relegated to the role of the forgotten man. One day, however, an interesting new fact came to light. The wily Gould had been buying thousands of head of cattle himself in the middle-Western markets, and was shipping them to New York at one dollar a carload through the courtesy of his hated rival, Vanderbilt of the New York Central!

People are deserting poor old New York town for a variety of dependable reasons these parous times, but Harriet Van Horne overheard a new one from a doughty dowager the other A.M.: "I simply can no longer endure the sort of young men one sees walking dogs in the East 50's nowadays!"

This beguiling ad was run recently in San Juan newspaper: "For sale cheap: adorable Kittens. Mother Persian. Father from good neighborhood."

Eurodollars are used to finance many private deals, including plant expansion overseas. The interest rates at which they can be borrowed swings widely, reflecting the ease or tightness of the international money market.

Higher interest rates here have brought some dollars home, along with some foreign money deposits and investments. But the recent upturn in European interest rates is halting that trend.

At home the debate over interest rates divides like this: Seeking easier money and congressional curbs on interest rates are those alarmed at the sharp rise in the cost of new mortgages for homes, at the higher monthly payments for the purchase of a car, at the increasing cost of financing business expansion, at higher rates for community borrowing to build new schools.

But tight money advocates see high interest rates as needed to halt inflation and rising living costs, to prevent overheating of a booming economy with a bust as the aftermath, as a means of holding down the U.S. balance of payments deficits and thus protecting the standing of the dollar.

How You Faring in Rat Race?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Have you wondered how you're faring in the rat race lately?

Well, maybe it's time for a periodic checkup. Sometimes you're the last to find out that you've slipped a few rungs down the ladder of success.

Keeping face is important. The only face you can lose is your own; once lost, it is difficult to get it back.

Here's a little guide to help you see where you stand in the pecking order. The chances are that you are still doing okay if—

The manager of the local supermarket is glad to cash your wife's checks whenever you need some quick walking-round money.

Your kids don't have to get their Christmas toys from the local firehouse.

When your son flunks out of college, you are consoled by the fact that at least it was a good college, not a second-rate one.

Your barber will hold his chair open for a full 10 minutes — not just five — if you're late for an appointment.

The office bootblack doesn't mind letting you charge a shine now and then.

At a business lunch you don't hesitate to be the first to order a second martini out of fear that your associates may think you're drinking too much.

There are more pounds of steak than hamburger in your home freezer.

You have a two-car garage, a 2½-bathroom home and take vacations winters as well as summers.

At least three other people in the firm are worried that you are out to get their job.

In an emergency you can take $25 out of the petty cash fund without writing a five-page letter explaining why.

You can use your personal key to the executive washroom without feeling self-conscious about it.

ORDINANCE NO. 44-66 AN ORDINANCE MAKING IT UNLAWFUL TO DISTURB THE GOOD ORDER AND QUIET OF THE CITY BY MAKING IT UNLAWFUL TO MAKE UNNECESSARY NOISES THEREIN

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Circleville, State of Ohio: SECTION 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to disturb the good order and quiet of the city by making unnecessary noises as hereinafter described, to-wit:

(a) By making unnecessary noise through the squealing of tires on pavement and accelerating or stopping a motor vehicle unless such noise is made necessary by an emergency.

(b) By unnecessarily racing the motor of a motor vehicle in such a manner as to cause the muffler or tailpipe on such vehicle, whether it be an automobile, truck or motorcycle, to make a loud and unnecessary noise regardless of the type of muffler or tailpipe which may be upon said vehicle.

(c) By unnecessarily creating other noises of any kind of nature through the use of a motor vehicle of any type whatsoever and may be unnecessary in the operation of said motor vehicle.

SECTION 2. Any person found guilty of violating Section 1 of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and for the first offense shall be fined not less than $10.00 or more than $50.00 and for any subsequent offenses occurring within any two year period shall be fined not less than $50.00 or more than $100.00.

SECTION 3. That any ordinance or parts of any ordinance inconsistent herewith shall be, and they hereby are, repealed to the extent of such inconsistency.

SECTION 4. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Attest: (s) Robert J. Shadley Clerk Approved: July 19, 1966. (s) Ben H. Gordon Mayor

The boss makes a daily bet with you on the outcome of baseball games, and likes to tell you all his home troubles.

When you present a new idea at a staff conference, nobody knocks it until he first sees how the head of the firm likes it.

You are important enough to have your own parking place in the company lot.

You no longer feel it is necessary to carry a brief case home every night to impress anyone with how hard you are working.

You can't seem to get more than five hours of sleep a night, and you munch two packages of antacid stomach pills a day instead of one.

Yep, brother, you're riding high. You've got what counts — status in your time.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Q: What is acne?

A: Acne is a condition that affects the skin in areas where there are numerous oily, or sebaceous glands. The skin of the face, back and chest are the most common sites for acne.

Acne is of course, most common at puberty and is said to affect almost 80 per cent of all adolescents.

Q: Why does it occur particularly during adolescence?

A: In boys and girls at puberty there is an alteration and imbalance of the sex hormones. It is believed that this temporary change in the hormone balance overstimulates the sebaceous glands and causes them to produce an excess of oily wax.

Q: Are there different types and grades of severity of acne?

A: There is no definite classification, but acne is considered as being of two types. There is the simple acne and the more complex variety where infection is predominant.

There are also vague gradations of acne. Grade 1 is the type that does not last long and does not leave any severe after-effects. Grade 2 is slightly more severe but does not leave any noticeable scarring of the face.

In Grade 3 and 4 there is severe inflammation and irritation of the skin and underlying tissue. If neglected permanent scars and pits of the skin result.

Q: Are there any other causes of acne?

A: There are many associated reasons for this condition. Fatigue, vitamin deficiency, drugs, excessive sweets, allergy, emotional stress and a poorly balanced diet can help to flare up an attack of acne.

Sometimes there is a temptation to pick and squeeze blackheads and pimples which bring forth small cysts and pus pockets. The staphylococcus germ that normally lives on the skin invades the tissue hurt by squeezing and only complicates acne with infection.

Q: Can acne be prevented?

A: Diligent cleanliness using non-irritating soaps, is an excellent preventative. Warm applications to small cysts, plus pockets and blackheads are soothing and far less irritating than vigorous scrubbing and squeezing.

Q: How can acne best be treated?

A: Patience, perseverance and gentleness are an ideal combination. Over the counter mail-order, "secret special and magical formulas" are expensive and harmful because they delay seeking the advice of a physician.

Hormones, cortisones and antibiotics are chosen with special care for the needs of each individual patient.

Soaps which contain hexachlorophene are soothing and help to destroy some of the bacteria which complicates acne. Dermatologists, specialists in skin diseases, sometimes use small doses of X-ray to reduce the activity of the oil producing glands. They are most careful to use it only in cases where the need is particularly great.

The distress of youngsters with acne is great. Children deserve and need the sympathetic understanding of parents who themselves were just as unhappy during their own adolescent phase.

An ice pack is less expensive than a sirloin steak for a black eye.

Ohio Power Firms Scent Lower Costs

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Ohio power companies may be able soon to purchase low-cost excess electricity even cheaper from a combine they set up 14 years ago to provide current for the Atomic Energy Commission's gaseous diffusion plant at Waverly.

All but one of the state's electric utilities and eight in neighboring states long have been purchasing the excess power their Ohio Valley Electric Corp. produces but does not need for supplying to the AEC.

Now, thanks to a drastic cut-back in the amount of power the plant needs and an anti-trust settlement by the firms making up the corporation, they face the prospect of lower rates and increased power.

The current already costs them less than power any of them could produce individually, according to Edward E. Knauf, head of accounting for the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

Ohio Valley Electric earlier this week filed with the Utilities Commission a request for modification of rates charged the AEC and the sponsoring companies for the power.

This was filed, said James Cox, assistant to the vice president of Ohio Valley Electric, in anticipation of a decrease of several million dollars in the $370 million original indebtedness in setting up the joint venture. "This will reduce our mortgage and thus our costs," Cox said.

The funds to be applied result from settlement of anti-trust suits filed by Ohio Valley Electric against electrical equipment manufacturing firms. In them, the electric utilities claimed monetary damage from purchase of generators and other equipment used in building the power plants.

The funds have not yet been applied to lowering the debt.

Mississippi Celebrates End of Its Prohibition

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Police cruisers, sirens screaming and lights flashing, escorted the big truck into Biloxi. The van sped to the plush Broadwater Beach Hotel.

A crowd of onlookers cheered when the truck's rear doors were opened, revealing 77 cases. Three were carried into the hotel by waiters.

Louis Cobb opened one, took out a bottle of scotch whiskey. He poured some into a glass with ice, added a dash of soda and handed it to T. M. Dorsett, the hotel manager.

"Ahh", said Dorsett, lifting the glass.

As Dorsett downed the drink in the glare of a floodlight, Mayor Dan Guice and other officials snipped a tricolor ribbon stretched across the entrance to the lounge.

There were more cheers. It was 6:55 Wednesday night. Drinking on the Mississippi Gulf Coast isn't uncommon.

But Dorsett's tipping had special significance. It was the first legal drink of whiskey poured in Mississippi after 58 years of prohibition, which really never did work.

The Gulf Coast, particularly, never paid any attention to prohibition.

A score or more rushed into the Broadwater's lounge when the ribbon was severed by the mayor and County Supervisor edness because still undecided is the amount of tax that must be paid.

When it is applied, he stressed the sponsoring companies will benefit directly from the money only through the lower rates — if approved by the commission.

None of the savings will be passed on to the individual consumer, but Knauf said the lower rates could have a bearing in the future since "the companies will have improve their position."

Laz Quave.

"It's on the house," cried Dorsett.

And it was until the three cases were consumed. Then the cash register began to ring.

"It still tastes the same," said one drinker. "But somehow it seems better because it's legal."

Mayor Guice said the arrival of legal liquor "will be a boon to our tourist industry and industrialization as well as removing the hypocritical attitude which the state has had toward whisky."

Prohibition ended July 1 but it took 27 days for the state to put the machinery in effect to legally sell whisky.

Seven counties have already approved legal liquor sales. More vote on it within a few days. Liquor by the drink will be permitted only in areas designated by the state as resorts.

Mississippi was the first to approve the national prohibition amendment in 1919 and became the last state to repeal the ban on booze.

A 1.7-mile underground road — the longest municipal tunnel in the world — was built to celebrate the 400th birthday of Rio de Janeiro.

Local ornithologists said the birds, some en route to South America and some using the prison as a local gathering place to begin the migratory journey, will number well over 130,000 by about Aug. 20. Usually at least half of them have left by Aug. 25.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Toaster Causes Crummy Deal

DEAR ABBY: I was married for three long, unhappy years the first time. We divorced and then I married a wonderful man. One of his relatives told us they were giving us a new toaster for a wedding gift. When it came it was her old toaster. Her excuse was they needed the double toaster because they had a family, and we needed only a single one. So she kept the new one and gave us her old one.

I was hurt inside, but I didn't say a word to anyone. My husband was furious, but he said, "Let's not start our marriage out with a fight in the family." Do you suppose that she thought that since I was second-hand all I was worth was a second-hand toaster? Should I keep it, give it back to her, or wrap it up and give it to her daughter as a wedding gift. She'll be married soon.

BURNED UP
DEAR BURNED: Keep the toaster and help your husband avoid a family fight. It takes a well-bred person to overlook a crummy deal.

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor wrote you an anonymous letter.

Detection Fear Always Present

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Mental illness can stem from cheating on income tax or "anything that one has done and is afraid of being found out."

This is the view of Dr. O. Hobart Mowrer who said here "is going to be a certain amount of personality disorder in every society no matter how good it is... because the person involved has decided to cheat on his society."

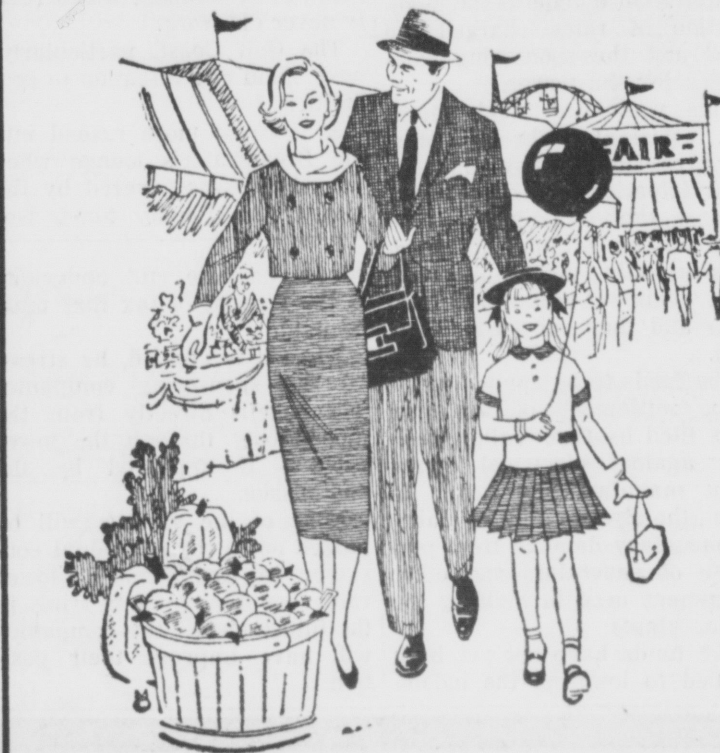

Such a person, according to Dr. Mowrer, "is afraid of external detection and his conscience bothers him."

Loss of Leg Fails To Dim Outlook of Young Beauty

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Two years ago, pretty Roberta Scott's left leg had to be amputated because of cancer. But her zest for living wasn't lost.

"I'd rather lose my leg than my life," commented the former runner-up in the Miss Oklahoma competition. "I get too much enjoyment out of life to sit and gripe about it."

Sitting isn't one of the things the 23-year-old Oklahoma State University coed does best — she's seldom still and her enthusiasms range from yard work, water skiing and painting to just cheering up others who have suffered setbacks.

"If anything," she says, "I have added to my activities rather than given any up."

Miss Scott often visits hospitals to "give encouragement to fellow members of the fraternity of the wooden leg."

A native of Ada, Miss Scott attended school in Tulsa. She was doing part-time modeling by the time she graduated from Will Rogers High School and included tap and ballet dancing, singing and summer stock theater work among her accomplishments.

In 1961, she was chosen Miss Tulsa and was second runner-up that year in the Miss Oklahoma beauty contest. She already had included a number of local beauty and talent trophies in her collection.

Admittedly interested in aiming for a career in the theater, she worked for her degree in elementary teaching with emphasis on music instruction.

When she was a senior, Miss Scott learned she had cancer. On Feb. 18, 1964 she entered the hospital. Her leg was amputated on March 4.

"God had his arm around me," she comments simply. "I didn't cry about it and I haven't."

The only complaint she is likely to voice is "Just after a rain, when it is hot and the tall grass is wet, I would like to be able to run across the pastures barefooted."

Her drive was obvious even just after losing the leg. Eight days after the operation, she slipped out of bed and hopped to a telephone to tell another patient she was already out of bed.

Miss Scott has returned to school, with her training now slanted toward special education for elementary students who are slow or retarded, the problem learners.

Margaret Wiggins, special education teacher at Stillwater's Lincoln Elementary School, is in charge of Miss Scott's practice teaching.

She says Miss Scott's ability to overcome the difficulties of her handicap encourages the youngsters around her to try their best to do the same. Mrs. Wiggins says Roberta is a "hard worker" who has been a "tremendous help" in dealing with the children.

For Miss Scott, every day is a rich and rewarding experience undimmed by the loss of her leg. Her outlook and activity proves the philosophy she expresses by saying: "I'm so glad to be alive."

The World Today

By BARRY SCHWEID
For James Marow

WASHINGTON (AP) — By proposing an invasion of North Viet Nam and a confrontation with Communist China, South Viet Nam Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has demonstrated anew that he has a special talent for offending Western sensibilities.

Following Ky's advice would be an abomination, declared Sen. Mike Mansfield, the usually mild-mannered Senate Democratic leader. Administration spokesmen reacted firmly, though with considerable restraint.

"Our position of not seeking any wider war has been repeatedly made clear and remains our position," said Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer. "We do not seek to threaten any regime."

"The President's views on not wanting a wider war are pretty well known," said Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary.

Clearly, once again, Ky and official Washington were at cross purposes, though the measure of stability the slender, 35-year-old pilot has achieved in Saigon is considered a blessing here.

In April 1965, two months before Ky became premier, he questioned the effectiveness of air strikes against highways, railroads and bridges in the North and proposed South Viet Nam's land forces move into the North.

"If we are just going to bomb communications lines the Viet Cong will be able to stand up for a long time, I'm afraid," he said. "So the next step must be big, either a big escalation of the war or negotiations."

Though President Johnson varied the bombing pattern last June, 14 months later, to strike at oil depots in the North, Ky's call for moving South Vietnamese forces across the 17th Parallel never has been followed.

Earlier, in October 1964, Ky kicked off a storm by telling the London Sunday Mirror:

"People ask me who my heroes are. I have only one — Hitler. I admire Hitler because he pulled his country together when it was in terrible state in the early '30s. But the situation here is so desperate that one man would not be enough. We need four or five Hitlers in Viet Nam."

The British government inquired into the interviews and in July 1965, a month after he became premier, Ky's office said he had been referring to Hitler's qualities of discipline and hadn't intended to praise Hitler in general.

Last February, Ky was at odds with administration policy when he called for the bombing of the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong.

In April he sent government troops into Da Nang though the U.S. Marine Corps commandant, Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., said the situation in the South Vietnamese city was calm and the demonstrations there were well-ordered and semireligious.

In May, Ky caused considerable embarrassment in Washington by declaring he had no intention of resigning following election of a constituent assembly.

There are several possible explanations of Ky's pronouncements and policy divergences from Washington. One may tie in his comparative youth, nationalism and military background. Certainly they have the effect of demonstrating that he is not Washington's puppet, that no matter how large the United States' involvement, it is South Viet Nam's independence that is at stake in the war.

"The President's views on not wanting a wider war are pretty well known," said Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary.

Clearly, once again, Ky and official Washington were at cross purposes, though the measure of stability the slender, 35-year-old pilot has achieved in Saigon is considered a blessing here.

In April 1965, two months before Ky became premier, he questioned the effectiveness of air strikes against highways, railroads and bridges in the North and proposed South Viet Nam's land forces move into the North.

"If we are just going to bomb communications lines the Viet Cong will be able to stand up for a long time, I'm afraid," he said. "So the next step must be big, either a big escalation of the war or negotiations."

Though President Johnson varied the bombing pattern last June, 14 months later, to strike at oil depots in the North, Ky's call for moving South Vietnamese forces across the 17th Parallel never has been followed.

Earlier, in October 1964, Ky kicked off a storm by telling the London Sunday Mirror:

"People ask me who my heroes are. I have only one — Hitler. I admire Hitler because he pulled his country together when it was in a terrible state in the early '30s. But the situation here is so desperate that one man would not be enough. We need four or five Hitlers in Viet Nam."

The British government inquired into the interviews and in July 1965, a month after he became premier, Ky's office said he had been referring to Hitler's qualities of discipline and hadn't intended to praise Hitler in general.

Last February, Ky was at odds with administration policy when he called for the bombing of the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong.

In April he sent government troops into Da Nang though the U.S. Marine Corps commandant, Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., said the situation in the South Vietnamese city was calm and the demonstrations there were well-ordered and semireligious.

In May, Ky caused considerable embarrassment in Washington by declaring he had no intention of resigning following election of a constituent assembly.

There are several possible explanations of Ky's pronouncements and policy divergences from Washington. One may tie in his comparative youth, nationalism and military background. Certainly they have the effect of demonstrating that he is not Washington's puppet, that no matter how large the United States' involvement, it is South Viet Nam's independence that is at stake in the war.

Loss of Leg Fails To Dim Outlook of Young Beauty

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Two years ago, pretty Roberta Scott's left leg had to be amputated because of cancer. But her zest for living wasn't lost.

"I'd rather lose my leg than my life," commented the former runner-up in the Miss Oklahoma competition. "I get too much enjoyment out of life to sit and gripe about it."

Sitting isn't one of the things the 23-year-old Oklahoma State University coed does best — she's seldom still and her enthusiasms range from yard work, water skiing and painting to just cheering up others who have suffered setbacks.

"If anything," she says, "I have added to my activities rather than given any up."

Miss Scott often visits hospitals to "give encouragement to fellow members of the fraternity of the wooden leg."

A native of Ada, Miss Scott attended school in Tulsa. She was doing part-time modeling by the time she graduated from Will Rogers High School and included tap and ballet dancing, singing and summer stock theater work among her accomplishments.

Sale of City-Owned Radio Station Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has ordered a hearing into the proposed sale of one of the nation's four municipally owned radio stations. The City of Camden, N.J., wants to sell WCAM to a private company.

Other cities operating radio stations are New York, Dallas, Tex., and Jacksonville, Fla.

'Dream' Plays in Dark

ASHLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Ashland Shakespearean Festival was darkened by a power failure one night recently. The play was "Midsummer Night's Dream."

In 1961, she was chosen Miss Tulsa and was second runner-up that year in the Miss Oklahoma beauty contest. She already had included a number of local beauty and talent trophies in her collection.

Admittedly interested in aiming for a career in the theater, she worked for her degree in elementary teaching with emphasis on music instruction.

When she was a senior, Miss Scott learned she had cancer. On Feb. 18, 1964 she entered the hospital. Her leg was amputated on March 4.

"God had his arm around me," she comments simply. "I didn't cry about it and I haven't."

Mrs. Georgia Sweet
Mt. Sterling 1696K

Sunday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wardel and daughter Debbie were Mrs. John Young and four sons of Vancouver, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Caudy and children of Mt. Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. William Deyo of Harrisburg, Mrs. Margaret Chourleus of Athens and Mrs. Virgie Higgins.

Mrs. John Young (Joanne Deyo) and sons from Vancouver, Wash., have been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Deyo, for several weeks.

On the birthday list are Barbara Rice, July 20; Paul Davis Jr., July 24; Lewis Gantz, July 24; Mrs. Carl Vance, July 26; and Mark Musselman, July 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Davis Jr. observed their anniversary on Thursday.

grass is wet, I would like to be able to run across the pastures barefooted."

Her drive was obvious even just after losing the leg. Eight days after the operation, she slipped out of bed and hopped to a telephone to tell another patient she was already out of bed.

Miss Scott has returned to school, with her training now slanted toward special education for elementary students who are slow or retarded, the problem learners.

Margaret Wiggins, special education teacher at Stillwater's Lincoln Elementary School, is in charge of Miss Scott's practice teaching.

She says Miss Scott's ability to overcome the difficulties of her handicap encourages the youngsters around her to try their best to do the same. Mrs. Wiggins says Roberta is a "hard worker" who has been a "tremendous help" in dealing with the children.

For Miss Scott, every day is a rich and rewarding experience undimmed by the loss of her leg. Her outlook and activity proves the philosophy she expresses by saying: "I'm so glad to be alive."

SYMBOL OF SAFETY

You never mistake the meaning of a Church spire.

Even to those who are cold to the ideals for which the Church stands, that finger of faith always points to something that is comforting, reassuring, safe.

The very presence of a Church, whether in a crowded city street or on a quiet country road, is a benediction to all, including those who are not conscious of worship.

Such an influence, with what it means to those who open their hearts to truth, is worthy of a second thought. It merits acceptance as a refuge. It commands confidence as a port in time of storm.

The Church deserves your support — your membership — because it affords real protection for the family whose welfare it is your duty to defend and whose proper upbringing is your solemn obligation.

U.S. Priests in Brazil Try To Become Useless

SANTAREM, Brazil (AP) — American Roman Catholic priests are doing their best to make themselves useless in this Amazon River port 500 miles from the Atlantic.

"We are trying to develop this area to turn it over to the Brazilian church," says Bishop James Ryan, 53, a native of Chicago who has been in the Amazon area for 23 years.

Known as Dom Tiago throughout his 200,000 square-mile jungle diocese, Bishop Ryan is the head of 38 American priests who minister to its 300,000 residents. They are the only priests in the region.

To help fulfill his goal, Bishop Ryan has opened a seminary on the outskirts of town. It has an enrollment of 114 boys. In theory, all are planning to study for the priesthood.

"But if we get 25 per cent out of it," says Bishop Ryan, "we'll be happy."

"If we get that many we'll hit the ceiling," echoes Father Lee, a tall Franciscan who's been here for five years. "The world average for completed vocations is about 15 per cent."

Bishop Ryan firmly believes in letting his seminary students know they live in a secular world.

"You have to let them grow up in a human way," he says.

"Not in a hot-house. A priest is made to work in the world, and we must give them an education that prepares them for the world."

The curriculum includes math, Portuguese, English, French, Latin, physics and chemistry.

"Our students are at least one year ahead of their U.S. contemporaries," says Father Juvenal Carlson, 36, of Rock Island, Ill., leader at the seminary. "When they leave here they should be able to handle any freshman course at an American university."

"We try to get away from the church stereotype," he says. "We try to stress masculinity, maturity, responsibility and dedication."

To support his educational and other activities, Bishop Ryan goes back to the United States every two years. "I go back for two months to beg."

Local resources are nonexistent. Fifty per cent of the people are unemployed and living on the margin of starvation.

"In the cathedral, five Sunday Masses put only five or six dollars in the collection box," Ryan says. "We rely primarily on the small contributions in the United States."

World's Fair Device Has New Career

UNION GROVE, Wis (AP)—A device that amused more than a million children at the New York World's Fair has a new career ahead—helping mentally retarded youngsters.

The Wisconsin State Welfare Board has accepted a donation of the "fun machine" that was featured in the Johnson Wax pavilion at the fair, for use in the Southern Colony and Training School here.

It is a walk-through, maze-like toy in which children manipulate cranks and buttons to activate noisemakers, surprise mechanisms and a variety of gears. It also includes distortion mirrors, a colored prism tunnel and a plastic hose "jungle."

A school spokesman said the machine is expected to "excite interest and bring out latent ability in patients who tend to be apathetic and phlegmatic."

Windmills Help Cattle Growers

BROKEN ARROW, Okla. (AP) —Modern steel windmills located to save steps for range cattle, play a part in producing beefier steaks for U. S. households.

Placed so no thirsty steer will have to walk more than a mile to water, thousands of windmills are at work in the ranches of Texas, Oklahoma, Nebraska and other large ranching states, according to W.C. Dean vice president of Aermotor Division of Braden - Aermotor Corporation.

The company, which produces more than 80 per cent of all U.S. made windmills, estimates that more than 100,000 windmills are in service in Texas alone cutting cattle weight losses.

SYMBOL OF SAFETY

You never mistake the meaning of a Church spire.

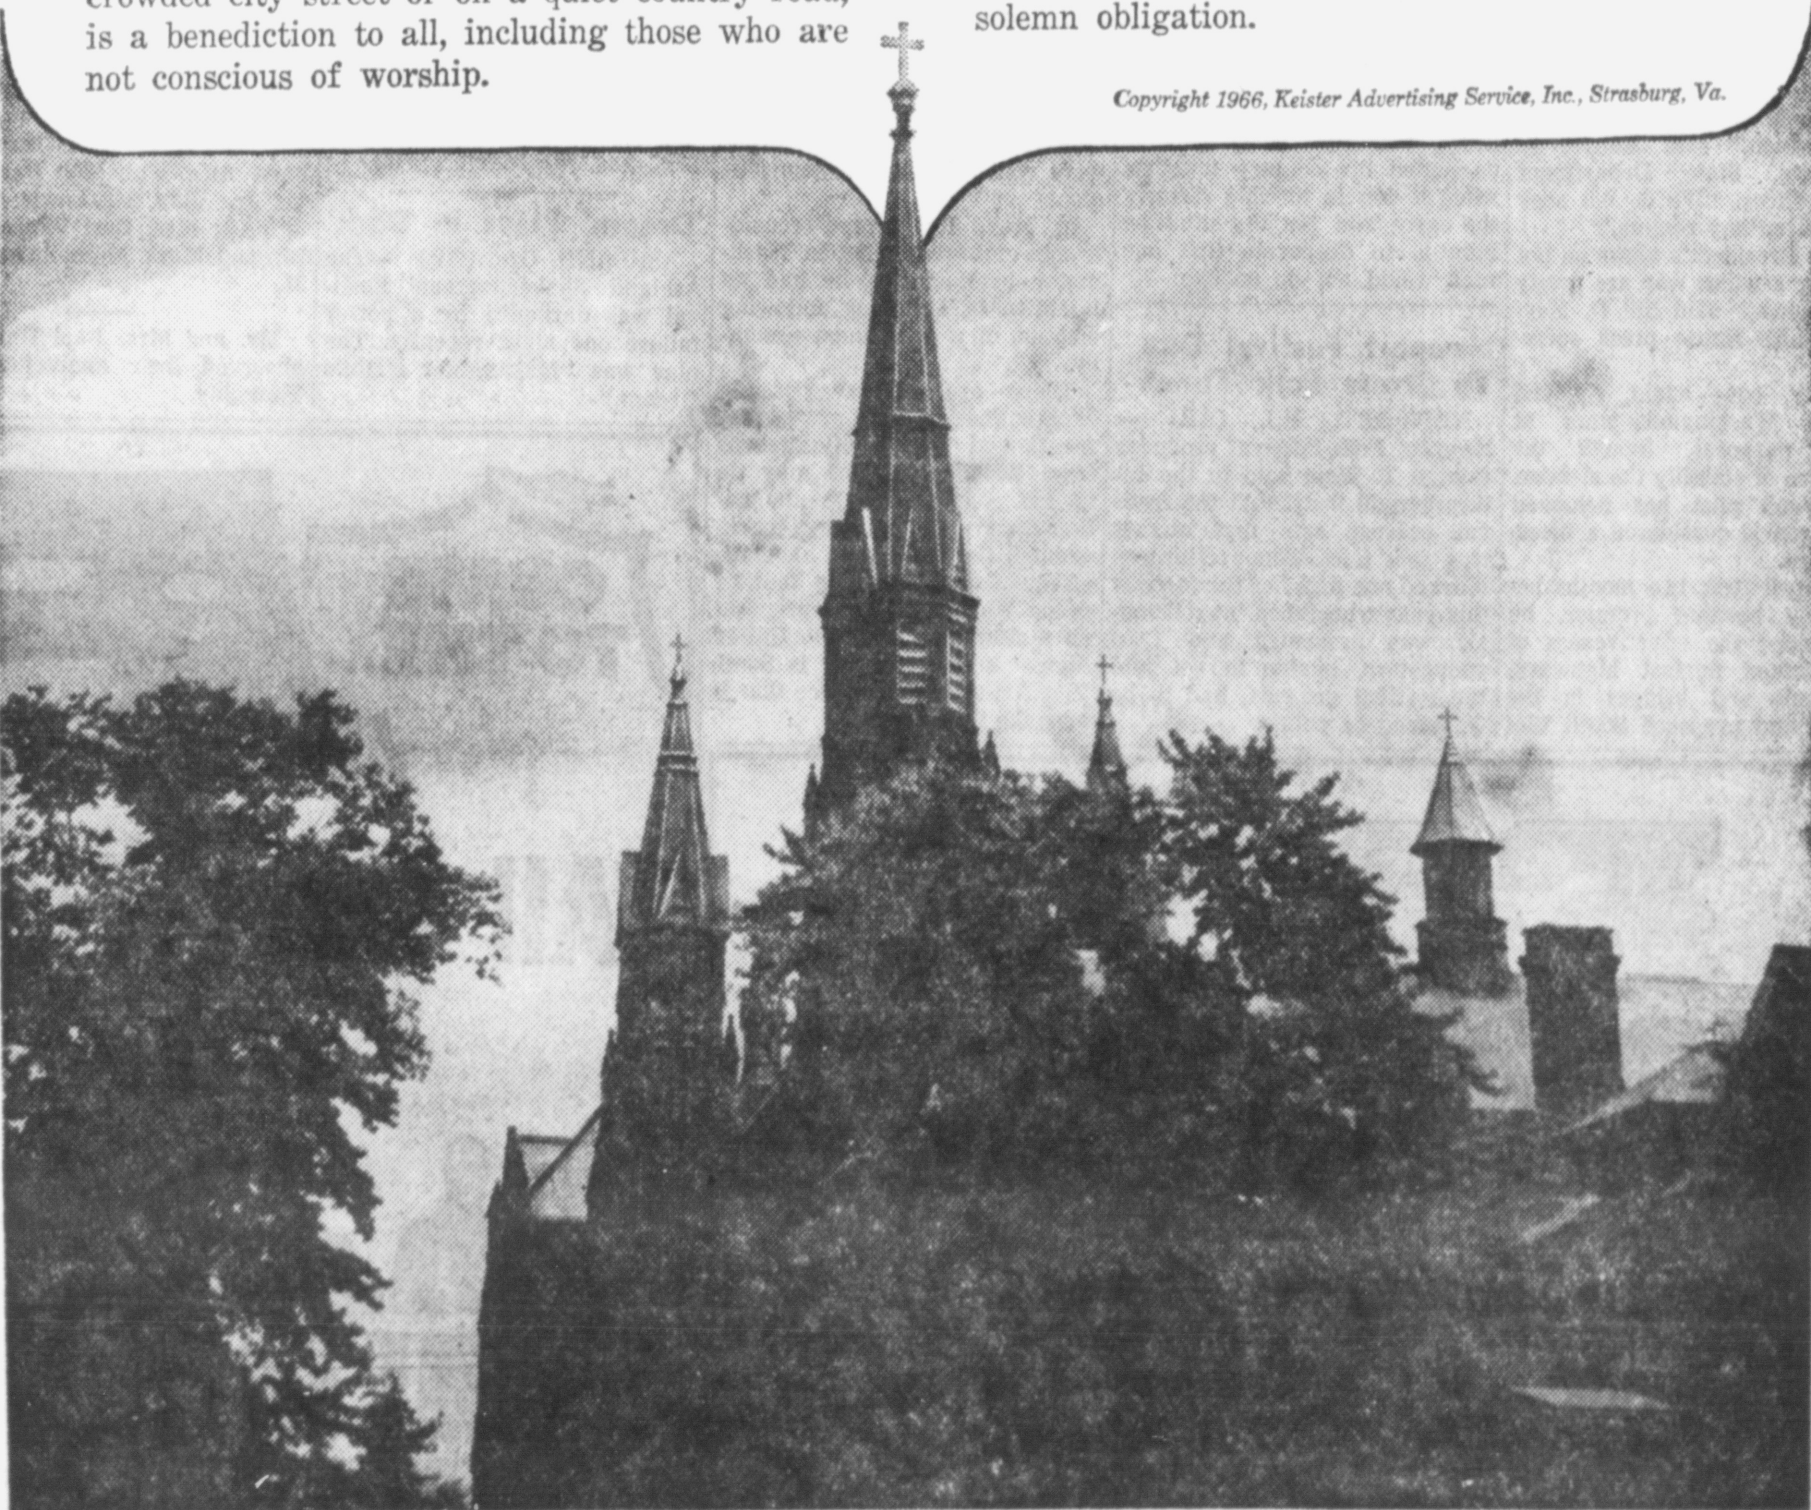

Even to those who are cold to the ideals for which the Church stands, that finger of faith always points to something that is comforting, reassuring, safe.

The very presence of a Church, whether in a crowded city street or on a quiet country road, is a benediction to all, including those who are not conscious of worship.

Such an influence, with what it means to those who open their hearts to truth, is worthy of a second thought. It merits acceptance as a refuge. It commands confidence as a port in time of storm.

The Church deserves your support — your membership — because it affords real protection for the family whose welfare it is your duty to defend and whose proper upbringing is your solemn obligation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Remember the Lord's Day

SETTING ASIDE TIME FOR GOD

Scripture—Exodus 20:8-11; Luke 4:16, 6:5-11; John 5:16-18.

By R. H. RAMSEY
WITH many of our civil laws so closely comparable to the Commandments, it seems incongruous that any of them—or its civil parallel—could become perennially controversial. Yet, such is the case with the fourth commandment, "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy."

For the Hebrews and present-day Jews, Sabbath means the seventh, or last day of the week, upon which God rested after the Creation. It is also a weekly reminder of the Passover, when God delivered them out of Egypt and made them His people.

Jesus observed the Hebrew tradition and, after His resurrection, it was maintained by His followers, but was moved to the first day of the week in honor of the day He rose from the dead.

Historically, the fact of the Sabbath—a day of rest or holy day—has never been denied, for all established religions have either periodic or regular holy days or days of rest, as do pagan, primitive and even aboriginal peoples.

The "how" and "when" of Sabbath and its observance is

His disciples for plucking grain to eat on the Sabbath. Jesus cited David's example (I Samuel 21:1-6), and declared, "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath; Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the Sabbath," (Mark 2:27, 28).

On another occasion, Jesus was accused of breaking the Sabbath when He healed a man with a withered arm. His answer, in the form of a question, "Is it lawful on the Sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?" demonstrated that the literal law might be enlarged, if not broken, to meet the necessities of many and to show mercy to one in distress. He was seeking not to abrogate the fourth commandment, but rather, as representative of man, to interpret it for the good of mankind and to lift it from the narrow, burdensome observances that had been placed upon it.

In John 5:1-16, we find Jesus again attacked for healing on the Sabbath. In defense, Jesus answered, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work," pointing out that He had acted in conformity with example of His another story, however. In 789, Emperor Charlemagne issued a decree forbidding all ordinary labor on Sunday as a breach of the fourth commandment. In 13th century Spain, Jews and Moslems were forced to maintain cooking fires on Saturdays to protect themselves and their "heretical beliefs" from the Inquisition's vigilantes. Sixteenth century Reformers declared Charlemagne's edict abrogated by the New Testament, but held to the tradition of Sunday as a day of rest and worship. Rigid Sunday observance slackened, and in the 17th and 18th centuries the Protestant Church reverted to the Old Testament for authority to enforce a rigid, liberal Sabbath observance.

Modern man has grown up enough to accept religious differences and allow his fellows to observe different Sabbath days in accordance with their faith, but how it is observed still embroils him in controversy. For a logical, practical interpretation, let us consider it in the light of Jesus' reaction to frequent charges of breaking the strict, legalistic Sabbath law.

To criticism of Himself and Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Divisions of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission.

own Father and with the mandate He had received from Him.

Though, in His critics' eyes, Jesus frequently broke the strict, legalistic Sabbath law, He was regular in His attendance at the synagogue on Sabbath, to listen, to teach, to heal. On one such occasion He gave a further example of the fact that the fourth commandment does not require absolute cessation from labor, citing work that must be done, Sabbath or no (Luke 13:10-15).

The Sabbath institution is firmly rooted in man's cultural pattern and will not be denied. In its observance, a period set aside for worship is imperative. The rest of the day's activities should be in harmony with the spirit of the day and judged—according to each man's conscience—by their good, necessity and worth.

In closing, the writer is reminded of the four Scotsman's reply to his minister, who chided him for hoeing potatoes on Sunday: "Reverend, if the Lord works on the Sabbath to keep these potatoes growing, I should do my part by taking care of them."

Weekly Food Review

NEW YORK (AP) — August is "sandwich month" — and bread prices are going up for it. Smaller wheat crops and rising milk and egg prices have upped the cost of bread by two cents on a one-pound loaf in many cities.

Prices of rolls and other bakery products are also expected to climb in the near future. While bread prices go up, sandwich fillings remain reasonably priced.

Chicken, turkey and beef cuts are good buys across the country. Many areas are featuring chuck roasts and steak cuts.

With specials on chicken, celery, carrots, and corn, most stores are geared for picnic planners.

But prices are higher on some traditional picnic goodies — ice cream and soft drinks. Hard-boiled and deviled eggs

Computer Able To Answer Phone

NORTHLAKE, Ill. (AP) — Development of a telephone that can be used to query a computer over existing telephone lines and obtain an immediate voice response has been announced by Automatic Electric Co.

Company president Darwin H. Deaver said that a typical application, as checking a credit rating, would take about 30 seconds. In that time the computer would give the caller a "credit" or "no credit" message such as "credit" or "no credit" or "credit card reported lost" or "Credit not okay."

The computer is connected to telephone central office switch in equipment through a date set. Once the connection is made by dialing a question is asked the computer by tapping out a series of digits on push-buttons. In the case of the credit inquiry, the sales clerk would enter the account number.

Remember the Lord's Day

SETTING ASIDE TIME FOR GOD

Scripture—Exodus 20:8-11; Luke 4:16, 6:5-11; John 5:16-18.

By R. H. RAMSEY
WITH many of our civil laws so closely comparable to the Commandments, it seems incongruous that any of them—or its civil parallel—could become perennially controversial. Yet, such is the case with the fourth commandment, "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy."
For the Hebrews and present-day Jews, Sabbath means the seventh, or last day of the week, upon which God rested after the Creation. It is also a weekly reminder of the Passover, when God delivered them out of Egypt and made them His people.
Jesus observed the Hebrew tradition and, after His resurrection, it was maintained by His followers, but was moved to the first day of the week in honor of the day He rose from the dead.
Historically, the fact of the Sabbath—a day of rest or holy day—has never been denied, for all established religions have either periodic or regular holy days or days of rest, as do pagan, primitive and even aboriginal peoples.
The "how" and "when" of Sabbath and its observance is

His disciples for plucking grain to eat on the Sabbath, Jesus cited David's example (1 Samuel 21:1-6), and declared, "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath; Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the Sabbath," (Mark 2:27, 28).
On another occasion, Jesus was accused of breaking the Sabbath when He healed a man with a withered arm. His answer, in the form of a question, "Is it lawful on the Sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?" demonstrated that the literal law might be enlarged, if not broken, to meet the necessities of many and to show mercy to one in distress. He was seeking not to abrogate the fourth commandment, but rather, as representative of man, to interpret it for the good of mankind and to lift it from the narrow, burdensome observances that had been placed upon it.
In John 5:1-16, we find Jesus again attacked for healing on the Sabbath. In defense, Jesus answered, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work," pointing out that He had acted in conformity with example of His another story, however, in 789, Emperor Charlemagne issued a decree forbidding all ordinary labor on Sunday as a breach of the fourth commandment. In 13th century Spain, Jews and Moslems were forced to maintain cooking fires on Saturdays to protect themselves and their "heretical beliefs" from the Inquisition's vigilantes. Sixteenth century Reformers declared Charlemagne's edict abrogated by the New Testament, but held to the tradition of Sunday as a day of rest and worship. Rigid Sunday observance slackened, and in the 17th and 18th centuries the Protestant Church reverted to the Old Testament for authority to enforce a rigid, liberal Sabbath observance.

Modern man has grown up enough to accept religious differences and allow his fellows to observe different Sabbath days in accordance with their faith, but how it is observed still embroils him in controversy. For a logical, practical interpretation, let us consider it in the light of Jesus' reaction to frequent charges of breaking the strict, legalistic Sabbath law.

own Father and with the mandate He had received from Him.

Though, in His critics' eyes, Jesus frequently broke the strict, legalistic Sabbath law, He was regular in His attendance at the synagogue on Sabbath, to listen, to teach, to heal. On one such occasion He gave a further example of the fact that the fourth commandment does not require absolute cessation from labor, citing work that must be done, Sabbath or no (Luke 13:10-15).

The Sabbath institution is firmly rooted in man's cultural pattern and will not be denied. In its observance, a period set aside for worship is imperative. The rest of the day's activities should be in harmony with the spirit of the day and judged—according to each man's conscience—by their good, necessity and worth.

In closing, the writer is reminded of the dour Scotsman's reply to his minister, who chided him for hoeing potatoes on Sunday: "Reverend, if the Lord works on the Sabbath to keep these potatoes growing, I should do my part by taking care of them."

Weekly Food Review

NEW YORK (AP) — August is "sandwich month" — and bread prices are going up for it. Smaller wheat crops and rising milk and egg prices have upped the cost of bread by two cents on a one-pound loaf in many cities.

Prices of rolls and other bakery products are also expected to climb in the near future.

While bread prices go up, sandwich fillings remain reasonably priced.

Chicken, turkey and beef cuts are good buys across the country. Many areas are featuring chuck roasts and steak cuts.

With specials on chicken, celery, carrots, and corn, most stores are geared for picnic planners.

But prices are higher on some traditional picnic goodies — ice cream and soft drinks.

Clevelanders Start Cleanup In Hough Area

CLEVELAND (AP)—Some 200 city employees and antipoverty workers were to start working today to cleanup Cleveland's Hough area, hard hit by rioting last week that claimed four lives and caused about $500,000 in property damage.

The Cuyahoga County Grand Jury also will continue hearings into the five nights of rioting that left several homes, businesses and apartments destroyed by fire.

Some 800 National Guardsmen remained on duty after 700 left Cleveland Thursday.

Police again closed down the JFK House—named for Jomo Freeman Kenyatta, president of Kenya—Thursday night after youths opened it, allegedly for the purpose of airing it out.

The house was closed by police order Wednesday. Officers said the house—claimed by Cleveland Police Chief Richard Wapner to be the school in which persons were taught how to make fire bombs—was closed for violation of sanitary codes.

The wife of founder Lewis G. Robinson said the youths were airing out the JFK House because National Guardsmen had thrown tear gas canisters inside.

Robinson told newsmen that he would ask city officials to inspect the house before reopening it Saturday night for a party.

A Negro farmer in Ashtabula County told The Cleveland Plain Dealer that he had leased part of his farm for a shooting range last year. The farmer, Lawrence Dozier, told a reporter that the 15 to 20 persons who leased the land said that they were members of the Congress of Racial Equality and the United Freedom Movement.

Dozier said Robinson was interested in operating a shooting range on his property two years ago, but that Robinson was not among those who last year wanted a shooting range, the Plain Dealer said.

Asked for comment about the shooting range, Robinson said: "I'm sick of this comic strip day-by-day stuff. Let's get to the real cause of this problem—Mayor Locher (Cleveland Mayor Ralph S. Locher), Police Chief Wagner, and the Uncle Toms on the administration who said everything down on the plantation was all right."

"They'd better do something or the people will burn this city down. That's my comment."

"Obviously this is unfounded and I know nothing about it," said Arthur Evans Jr., United Freedom Movement chairman. Asked about the allegations that CORE was involved in setting up the shooting range, Baxter Hill, chairman of Cleveland's chapter, said:

"I have been a member since CORE was formed here in 1957, and have never indulged in such practices. . . . We are a nonviolent group."

Poor Wages, High Prices Linked to Racial Strife

CLEVELAND (AP) — Poor wages, high prices and the relief check were three factors named by Negroes as contributing to the frustration which ignited last week's racial flare-up in the Hough area.

Despite the cry to "get whitey," one Negro woman said, "people don't mind the white owners as much as the high prices."

The woman, Mrs. Ceola King, is a Hough area resident working with the economic opportunity program. She said food prices in the area are comparable with the rest of Cleveland, but welfare allotments for food are too low.

According to the county welfare board, the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) and general relief allotments are $29 a month per person for food and clothing.

In discussing the prices Thursday, Mrs. King referred to figures from a study of one supermarket in Hough.

"Prices are lowest Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday," Mrs. King said, "they go up slightly Thursday, Friday and Saturday."

Tack Facts Published

NEW YORK (AP) — A current issue of "Steelways," magazine of the American Iron and Steel Institute, has an article about tacks. It includes such tack facts as:

The shoe industry uses about 45 per cent of all the tacks manufactured.

Tacks are sterilized to protect the health of those who put them in their mouths before using them.

There are about 3.2 million tacks to the ton.

Airline Strike Bringing Daily Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—The 22-day-old airline strike is making a deepening cut into the economy, bringing daily losses in the millions to tourism, industry and many small businesses.

An Associated Press survey found that hotels, food and fuel suppliers, flower dealers and the bootblacks, sky-caps, and other service personnel who depend on planes for their livelihood have been severely hurt.

A spokesman for New York City's Convention and Visitors Bureau estimated its tourist industry losses were running at $750,000 a day while the president of Miami's Chamber of Commerce said the strike toll there is reaching "catastrophic proportions."

Suppliers of food and fuel to the five struck lines were reported losing $1 million a day and a spokesman for the lines—Eastern, Trans World, United, Northwest and National—said their total daily revenue loss was $7 million.

The cost of the walkout so far to striking machinist union workers and laid off employees has been set at $30 million. Union members are receiving $25 weekly benefit checks and furloughed workers can collect unemployment insurance.

Talks toward ending the strike were to resume in Washington today while a Senate committee studied proposed legislation to halt the walkout.

With the big losers, are many small-business men. In Minneapolis an importer of Hawaiian orchids was forced to close down. A Wilmington, Del., supplier of mice to laboratories doubled his normal operating costs to charter a World War II bomber to ship a load of pregnant mice.

At Boston's Logan Airport, newsstands and shoe-shine parlors have closed. In California, airport barbers, travel agents and florists have been so hard hit that the State Utility Commission has ordered a study of conditions.

In Miami, however, the whole community was reported feeling the effects of an estimated $40-million loss.

Winston Wynne, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said, "As the base of our economy is eaten away, the whole community suffers. The shock will be felt for many months to come."

Don Frazier, president of San Francisco's Downtown Association, said a survey he conducted showed a daily loss of about $1 million.

In Los Angeles, where the Chamber of Commerce estimated the loss per day at $617,000, flower growers were said to be hardest hit, with half their normal market falling away.

The owner of a florist shop in Pittsburgh, Pa., said flowers that usually arrived from the West Coast in 19 hours now were getting to him in five days.

Clevelanders Start Cleanup In Hough Area

CLEVELAND (AP)—Some 200 city employees and antipoverty workers were to start working today to cleanup Cleveland's Hough area, hard hit by rioting last week that claimed four lives and caused about $500,000 in property damage.

The Cuyahoga County Grand Jury also will continue hearings into the five nights of rioting that left several homes, businesses and apartments destroyed by fire.

Some 800 National Guardsmen remained on duty after 700 left Cleveland Thursday.

Police again closed down the JFK House—named for Jomo Freeman Kenyatta, president of Kenya—Thursday night after youths opened it, allegedly for the purpose of airing it out.

The house was closed by police order Wednesday. Officers said the house—claimed by Cleveland Police Chief Richard Warner to be the school in which persons were taught how to make fire bombs—was closed for violation of sanitary codes.

The wife of founder Lewis J. Robinson said the youths were airing out the JFK House because National Guardsmen had thrown tear gas canisters inside.

Robinson told newsmen that he would ask city officials to inspect the house before reopening it Saturday night for a party.

A Negro farmer in Ashtabula County told The Cleveland Plain Dealer that he had leased part of his farm for a shooting range last year. The farmer, Lawrence Dozier, told a reporter that the 15 to 20 persons who leased the land said that they were members of the Congress of Racial Equality and the United Freedom Movement.

Dozier said Robinson was interested in operating a shooting range on his property two years ago, but that Robinson was not among those who last year wanted a shooting range, the Plain Dealer said.

Asked for comment about the shooting range, Robinson said: "I'm sick of this comic strip day-by-day stuff. Let's get to the real cause of this problem—Mayor Locher (Cleveland Mayor Ralph S. Locher), Police Chief Wagner, and the Uncle Toms on the administration who said everything down on the plantation was all right."

"They'd better do something or the people will burn this city down. That's my comment."

"Obviously this is unfounded and I know nothing about it," said Arthur Evans Jr., United Freedom Movement chairman. Asked about the allegations that CORE was involved in setting up the shooting range, Baxter Hill, chairman of Cleveland's chapter, said: "I have been a member since CORE was formed here in 1957, and have never indulged in such practices. . . . We are a nonviolent group."

HOUGH RETURNS TO NORMAL—Sealed off by the National Guard for nearly a week to prevent further bloody rioting by Negroes, Hough Avenue is back to normal in Cleveland as the guardsmen are withdrawn.

Poor Wages, High Prices Linked to Racial Strife

CLEVELAND (AP) — Poor wages, high prices and the relief check were three factors named by Negroes as contributing to the frustration which ignited last week's racial flare-up in the Hough area.

Despite the cry to "get white," one Negro woman said, "people don't mind the white owners as much as the high prices."

The woman, Mrs. Ceola King, is a Hough area resident working with the economic opportunity program. She said food prices in the area are comparable with the rest of Cleveland, but welfare allotments for food are too low.

According to the county welfare board, the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) and general relief allotments are $29 a month per person for food and clothing.

In discussing the prices Thursday, Mrs. King referred to figures from a study of one supermarket in Hough.

"Prices are lowest Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday," Mrs. King said. "They go up slightly Thursday, Friday and Saturday."

Tack Facts Published

NEW YORK (AP) — A current issue of "Steelways," magazine of the American Iron and Steel Institute, has an article about tacks. It includes such tack facts as:

The shoe industry uses about 45 per cent of all the tacks manufactured.

Tacks are sterilized to protect the health of those who put them in their mouths before using them.

There are about 3.2 million tacks to the ton.

So did the driver Harold Maggard of Indianapolis, who fought the steering gear for several hundred yards before he could stop.

Airline Strike Bringing Daily Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—The 22-day-old airline strike is making a deepening cut into the economy, bringing daily losses in the millions to tourism, industry and many small businesses.

An Associated Press survey found that hotels, food and fuel suppliers, flower dealers and the bootblacks, sky-caps, and other service personnel who depend on planes for their livelihood have been severely hurt.

A spokesman for New York City's Convention and Visitors Bureau estimated its tourist industry losses were running at $750,000 a day while the president of Miami's Chamber of Commerce said the strike toll there is reaching "catastrophic proportions."

Suppliers of food and fuel to the five struck lines were reported losing $1 million a day and a spokesman for the lines—Eastern, Trans World, United, Northwest and National—said their total daily revenue loss was $7 million.

The cost of the walkout so far to striking machinist union workers and laid off employees has been set at $30 million. Union members are receiving $25 weekly benefit checks and furloughed workers can collect unemployment insurance.

Talks toward ending the strike were to resume in Washington today while a Senate

Medic Accused in Slaying Disavows Insurance Claim

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Dr. Carl Coppolino, indicted for first-degree murder in the death of his first wife and a neighbor, has disavowed himself of any interest in a $25,000 insurance policy on her life, it was learned today.

Coppolino, 34, whose arraignment was put off until Sept. 1 at his request Wednesday, had filed suit to collect the policy on his wife, Carmella, 32, who died last Aug. 28.

According to Sarasota County records, the insurance company, Professional Life and Casualty of Chicago, denied its liability for payment on the grounds that Mrs. Coppolino, who also was a doctor, died "of other than natural causes" and had "made false representations concerning the state of her health."

Coppolino, through an attorney, has arranged that any payment he might receive under the policy now go into a trust fund for his two daughters, Monica, 9, and Liza, 4. His present wife, Mary, has been named executrix of the trust fund.

Records show Mrs. Coppolino filed a petition two weeks ago to adopt the two girls by her husband's previous marriage.

Coppolino was scheduled for arraignment Wednesday, but asked for the delay so that his vacationing defense lawyer,

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Half a billion dollars is being spent for buildings to meet demands of Ohio's college enrollment explosion.

Taxpayer are footing $437 million of the bill.

Private colleges and universities add to the total with endowments and funds from other sources. Millions more build dormitories and other facilities which pay for themselves.

State officials says the record outlay is just the beginning of what will be needed to accommodate enrollments expected to more than double by 1980.

Construction now under way along with that in the planning stage probably will do little more than meet minimum needs in the next decade, they estimate.

Ohio now has 168,000 students enrolled at public universities and colleges. It is predicted this total will grow to 280,000 in the next three years and to 450,000 by 1980.

Present private school enrollments total 98,000. They are expected to swell to 130,000 in 1970 and 20,000 in 1980.

State Public Works Director Alfred C. Gienow reports that the state's public schools currently have $16 million worth of construction in progress. Designs are ready for $266 million more.

$100,000-a-Year Income Plus Misery Tossed Aside

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ever feel like chucking the old daily grind for other work you think you'd really like? ?

Anybody who hasn't? ?

Ed Ames! who made the switch, advises:

"You can't do it capriciously. But many a man must ask himself, 'Am I going to make a steady income and be miserable — or do what I really want to do and face up to the challenge of life?'"

Six years ago Ames was lead singer with the Ames Brothers quartet. For 10 years they'd toured the top night spots. Their record sales totaled 25 million. Ed, then 30, had an income of $100,000 a year, a wife, three children — and misery in his heart.

"It wasn't a good life," he says now. "We lived within four walls, never saw our wives and children. I felt my whole life was being frittered away, that I wasn't doing what God meant me to do."

"We varied our material as much as possible, but people always asked for the same old songs, like 'You, You, You' and 'The Naughty Lady of Shady Lane' — two of the Ames brothers' big hits."

"When I broached it to my wife, she said, 'I know how miserable you've been. The best thing is to do what your instinct tells you. We were poor when we started. If necessary we'll start all over again.'"

The Ames brothers' last stand as a foursome was at Las Vegas' Sahara Hotel — at $12,500 a week. The three remaining brothers played out two years' bookings.

"I was interested in the theater," Ed says. "In a theater, even with nobody there, I get a lump in my throat."

Ed made it as an actor, starting at $40 a week off Broadway, after a year of job-hunting and drama study in which he got down to his last $200 savings.

Ed stars as Fess Parker's Indian pal Mingo on the "Daniel Boone" television series. With his TV salary, fairs, rodeos, concerts and occasional recordings like "Try to Remember," he says, his income is bigger than ever.

Federal Idle Pay Standard Is Given Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharply divided Senate Finance Committee has approved a bill that would require the states to meet federal standards for unemployment insurance.

Covered employees would be entitled to benefit payments equal to 50 per cent of a worker's wage, up to a maximum of 50 per cent of a state's average wage, for 26 weeks under the bill.

Adoption of this federal standard for the duration and scale of benefits was by a 9-8 vote. The House rejected a similar proposal when it passed a bill limited to extending coverage to 3½ million more workers while ignoring other recommendations of President Johnson.

The measure approved by the Senate committee is far closer to what the President and labor leaders urged, but it still falls short of their recommendations. It was approved by a 13-4 vote after a series of close votes on amendments.

The Finance Committee, by voice vote, eliminated from the House bill the coverage of employees of small firms — those with less than four employees. This knock out coverage for 1.2 million workers.

As approved, the Senate measure would bring about 2.3 million additional workers under the jobless benefit system. Approximately 43.7 million are covered now.

The President proposed extending coverage to five million more employees.

Another major feature of the legislation is a provision, to be

Big Showpiece Victory Is Still Sought by Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Hardly 75 miles from Saigon, the shadowy military and political leaders of the Viet Cong make their plans for victory over the Americans.

Their headquarters is deep within the matted jungles of northern Tay Ninh Province, a relatively short distance from sanctuary in Cambodia if need arises.

In terms of real political power, this jungle command post in Tay Ninh is only a way station to implement the orders of Ho Chi Minh in Hanoi. In military terms, however, the jungle planners plot the day-to-day outline of their war in Viet Nam.

Increasingly, they seem to concentrate on one overriding problem. How to win a showpiece victory from a major American unit.

At the Communists' disposal are some 250,000 fighting men.

automatically triggered by unemployment figures and trends, for extended benefits in times of recession.

Under this, covered employees would be entitled to benefit payments for an additional 13 weeks up to half the amounts of his regular unemployment compensation. This would be financed entirely by the federal government, instead of on a 50-50 basis with the states as provided in the House bill.

It would go in effect on a national basis if the unemployment rate reached 5 per cent and if workers who had exhausted their basic benefits totaled 1 per cent.

They have a fulltime guerrilla army seasoned by years of war. There are crack North Vietnamese regulars infiltrated from Hanoi. And they have a host of peasant soldiers who hide their guns by day.

Backing them up is North Viet Nam's 600,000-man regular army which by U.S. estimate, is sending some 5,000 replacements South each month.

A little over a year ago this force was clearly on the way to victory in Viet Nam. The tactics which had bled and defeated the French were grinding the South Vietnamese army to pieces.

Despite the mounting influx of American troops the Communists confidently started to shift into what they call "phase three" — the open-battle climax which the dogma of Mao Tse-tung says will end guerrilla war victoriously.

There is every evidence that the Viet Cong strategists are sticking to Mao's doctrine, although it has resulted in a bloody series of battlefield defeats.

The escalation required by Mao — and implemented by Hanoi's Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap — posed tremendous supply problems for the Communists at the same time American helicopters and jets were making this hazardous.

By re-equipping units with Soviet and Chinese weapons the Communists burdened themselves with the need to bring almost all ammunition from the North — a 1,000-mile supply line for remote units. The Red field force requires at least 150,000 pounds of rice daily.

On the evidence thus far, the Communists have been unable to handle these problems and maintain the "strategic mobility" their theories demand.

For several months, however, intelligence officers in Saigon have been aware that the Red leadership was attempting to slip seasoned battalions into new battle positions.

The aim is a continuing effort to get men, rice and guns massed in some area where the Americans can be caught off balance and a dramatic victory scored.

This regrouping has produced formidable concentrations in several critical areas. But the Red devotion to their long-tested tactics, coupled with new supply problems and fantastic American mobility, has thrown the timetable askew time and again.

For all major operations, and even North Vietnamese regulars, who desert or defect is inching up. The rate is admittedly low but it is enough to trouble the Red commanders authorities say, issued stern who have recently, American new orders to curb such things. Although the total Communist force numbers some 250,000, the Westmoreland and his staff feel that these spoiling operations have been a big factor in forestalling any Communist monsoon offensive. They are aware, however, that the monsoon rains, which cut the effectiveness of American air power, will continue into late October. Between now and then the political and military leaders hiding in the Tay Ninh jungles may yet order a desperate effort to get a Communist victory.

The vaunted North Vietnamese regiments have now been coming South for more than a year. They were told they could win and the story is wearing thin.

Communist propaganda had painted 1965 as "the year of decision" and that decision appears to be more remote every day.

The number of Viet Cong, and brunt of any big attacks will fall on what are called maneuver battalions.

Throughout South Viet Nam there are perhaps 60 such battalions of regular North Vietnamese troops and 95 more battalions of hardcore Viet Cong. The strength of such units varies but they average about 500 men — giving the Reds some 77,500 men armed with light but modern weapons.

Depending on where they are used, these units will be joined by local guerrilla fighters in specific actions — a tactic which permits them to increase their numbers but sometimes cuts effectiveness as the local forces are less well armed and trained.

Federal Idle Pay Standard Is Given Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharply divided Senate Finance Committee has approved a bill that would require the states to meet federal standards for unemployment insurance.

Covered employees would be entitled to benefit payments equal to 50 per cent of a worker's wage, up to a maximum of 50 per cent of a state's average wage, for 26 weeks under the bill.

Adoption of this federal standard for the duration and scale of benefits was by a 9-8 vote. The House rejected a similar proposal when it passed a bill limited to extending coverage to 3½ million more workers while ignoring other recommendations of President Johnson.

The measure approved by the Senate committee is far closer to what the President and labor leaders urged, but it still falls short of their recommendations. It was approved by a 13-4 vote after a series of close votes on amendments.

The Finance Committee, by voice vote, eliminated from the House bill the coverage of employees of small firms — those with less than four employees. This knock out coverage for 1.2 million workers.

As approved, the Senate measure would bring about 2.3 million additional workers under the jobless benefit system. Approximately 43.7 million are covered now.

The President proposed extending coverage to five million more employees.

Big Showpiece Victory Is Still Sought by Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Hardly 75 miles from Saigon, the shadowy military and political leaders of the Viet Cong make their plans for victory over the Americans.

Their headquarters is deep within the matted jungles of northern Tay Ninh Province, a relatively short distance from sanctuary in Cambodia if need arises.

In terms of real political power, this jungle command post in Tay Ninh is only a way station to implement the orders of Ho Chi Minh in Hanoi. In military terms, however, the jungle planners plot the day-to-day outline of their war in Viet Nam.

Increasingly, they seem to concentrate on one overriding problem. How to win a showpiece victory from a major American unit.

At the Communists' disposal are some 250,000 fighting men.

automatically triggered by unemployment figures and trends, for extended benefits in times of recession.

Under this, covered employees would be entitled to benefit payments for an additional 13 weeks up to half the amounts of his regular unemployment compensation. This would be financed entirely by the federal government, instead of on a 50-50 basis with the states as provided in the House bill.

It would go in effect on a national basis if the unemployment rate reached 5 per cent and if workers who had exhausted their basic benefits totaled 1 per cent.

They have a fulltime guerrilla army seasoned by years of war. There are crack North Vietnamese regulars infiltrated from Hanoi. And they have a host of peasant soldiers who hide their guns by day.

Backing them up is North Viet Nam's 600,000-man regular army which by U.S. estimate, is sending some 5,000 replacements South each month.

A little over a year ago this force was clearly on the way to victory in Viet Nam. The tactics which had bled and defeated the French were grinding the South Vietnamese army to pieces.

Despite the mounting influx of American troops the Communists confidently started to shift into what they call "phase three" — the open-battle climax which the dogma of Mao Tse-tung says will end guerrilla war victoriously.

There is every evidence that the Viet Cong strategists are sticking to Mao's doctrine, although it has resulted in a bloody series of battlefield defeats.

The escalation required by Mao — and implemented by Hanoi's Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap — posed tremendous supply problems for the Communists at the same time American helicopters and jets were making this hazardous.

By re-equipping units with Soviet and Chinese weapons the Communists burdened themselves with the need to bring almost all ammunition from the North — a 1,000-mile supply line for remote units. The Red field force requires at least 150,000 pounds of rice daily.

On the evidence thus far, the Communists have been unable to handle these problems and maintain the "strategic mobility" their theories demand.

For several months, however, intelligence officers in Saigon have been aware that the Red leadership was attempting to slip seasoned battalions into new battle positions.

The aim is a continuing effort to get men, rice and guns massed in some area where the Americans can be caught off balance and a dramatic victory scored.

This regrouping has produced formidable concentrations in several critical areas. But the Red devotion to their long-tested tactics, coupled with new supply problems and fantastic American mobility, has thrown the timetable askew time and again.

For all major operations, and for many that are quite small, Viet Cong military leaders insist on time-consuming steps. They study their target with meticulous care. They hide rice and ammunition in advance. With maps and sandtable models they go over battle plans in minute detail.

This type of thing frequently leaves the Viet Cong exposed to the "spoiling operations" unleashed by the American commander, energetic Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

Westmoreland and his staff feel that these spoiling operations have been a big factor in forestalling any Communist monsoon offensive. They are aware, however, that the monsoon rains, which cut the effectiveness of American air power, will continue into late October. Between now and then the political and military leaders hiding in the Tay Ninh jungles may yet order a desperate effort to get a Communist victory.

The vaunted North Vietnamese regiments have now been coming South for more than a year. They were told they could win and the story is wearing thin.

Communist propaganda had painted 1965 as "the year of decision" and that decision appears to be more remote every day.

The number of Viet Cong, and even North Vietnamese regulars, who desert or defect is inching up. The rate is admittedly low but it is enough to trouble the Red commanders. Authorities say, issued stern new orders to curb such things. Although the total Communist force numbers some 250,000, the brunt of any big attacks will fall on what are called maneuver battalions.

Throughout South Viet Nam there are perhaps 60 such battalions of regular North Vietnamese troops and 95 more battalions of hardcore Viet Cong. The strength of such units varies but they average about 500 men — giving the Reds some 77,500 men armed with light but modern weapons.

Depending on where they are used, these units will be joined by local guerrilla fighters in specific actions — a tactic which permits them to increase their numbers but sometimes cuts effectiveness as the local forces are less well armed and trained.

Cincinnati's Forgotten Man Leads Revival

Coker Chalks Up Grand-Slammer In 7-5 Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Cincinnati's third-string catcher has switched from morale-booster to fence-buster and the Reds are turning the corner in the National League scramble. Jim Coker, a forgotten man in Cincinnati for two years, belted a grand-slam homer Thursday night as the Reds continued their upswing with a 7-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The Reds have won eight of their last 10 games and 10 of 16 since Dave Bristol replaced Don Heffner as manager two weeks ago after an 11-game losing streak toppled them into eighth place.

Coker, the club's No. 1 cheerleader and No. 3 receiver — behind John Edwards and Don Pavletich — since 1964, has caught in 10 games during the Reds' revival and has homered in two of the last three. He had only one home run before connecting Tuesday night against the Cubs and had hit just three for the Reds prior to this season.

"It's a good feeling when you come to the ball park knowing you have a chance to play," said the 29-year-old catcher, who appeared in 11 games last season and 24 the previous year. Despite the inactivity, Coker never lost his enthusiasm — or sense of humor. "Coker keeps everybody loose," says Bristol. "He says the right thing at the right time."

While Coker's second career grand slam powered the Reds past the Cubs, the streaking St. Louis Cardinals, led by hot-hitting Orlando Cepeda, outscored Atlanta 7-5 in the only other NL games scheduled. The victory was St. Louis' fourth straight and 10th in 11 games.

Chicago edged Detroit 2-1 in the only American League action. Kansas City and Boston were rained out.

Coker's bases-loaded blast off Curt Simmons capped a five-run explosion in the first inning. The Reds added two runs in the third when Tommy Helms doubled for his seventh consecutive hit and Deron Johnson cracked his 12th homer.

Cepeda, the league's No. 2 hitter, lifted his batting average to .337 and extended his hitting streak to 12 games with a double and homer as the Cardinals climbed into fourth place, seven games off the pace.

The St. Louis first baseman triggered a five-run rally in the second inning with his 17th homer, helping Bob Gibson pickup his 13th victory. Gibson left in the eighth with a sore elbow after yielding five hits and the Braves closed the gap with three runs in the inning.

Two-run triples by Dal Maxvill and Lou Brock capped the Cardinals' second-inning burst.

Bret Takes Aim on Top Money Mark

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Bret Hanover, winner of 54 of 58 starts in less than three years of racing, took dead aim today on Su Mac Lad's world money-winning record for harness horses.

The 4-year-old from the barns of Richard Downing of Shaker Heights, Ohio, became the leading money-winning pacer Thursday night when he picked up $55,000 in the $100,000 Empire Pace at Yonkers Raceway to boost his bank account to $760,352.

Su Mac Lad, the retired trotter, holds the harness racing record of $885,095 and if Bret is to pass him he must do it this year since he'll go into stud service in 1967.

Pacing the 1 1/4 miles in 2:33.2-5 with the last half in 58.45 seconds and the final quarter in 28.3-5, Bret finished three lengths in front of Gee Lee Hanover with Tuxedo Hanover third.

Protest Request Not Allowed in Little League

A protest in the Little League was not allowed Thursday night by a board made up of loop managers.

The protest as lodged by the manager of the BPO Elks and involved a "loose" base and an overslide. The play in question occurred during a game with Ralston Purina.

It was ruled that the play in question involved an umpire's decision as to when a base is defined as "loose" and the protest was not allowed.

The Elk manager noted his primary reason in filing the protest was to clarify the definition of a loose base.

Another protest was lodged last night with Youth Baseball officials involving a game with Du Pont and Kochheiser.

A meeting of Pony League managers will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday to rule on the protest. The meeting will be at the main shelter house at Ted Lewis Park.

Rain Washes Out Baseball Action

All action in the Circleville Youth Baseball Program ceased Thursday when rain washed out the diamonds.

Kelly Boyer, Youth Baseball Supervisor, has rescheduled the five tilts. All games, with the exception of the Logan Elm-Lindsey's Bakery tilt, will be staged 10 a.m. Saturday on the same field as previously slated. Logan Elm will meet the Lindsey Bakers 5:15 p.m. Tuesday on the Fairgrounds 1 diamond.

While Coker's second career grand slam powered the Reds past the Cubs, the streaking St. Louis Cardinals, led by hot-hitting Orlando Cepeda, outscored Atlanta 7-5 in the only other NL games scheduled. The victory was St. Louis' fourth straight and 10th in 11 games.

Chicago edged Detroit 2-1 in the only American League action. Kansas City and Boston were rained out.

Coker's bases-loaded blast off Curt Simmons capped a five-run explosion in the first inning. The Reds added two runs in the third when Tommy Helms doubled for his seventh consecutive hit and Deron Johnson cracked his 12th homer.

Cepeda, the league's No. 2 hitter, lifted his batting average to .337 and extended his hitting streak to 12 games with a double and homer as the Cardinals climbed into fourth place, seven games off the pace.

The St. Louis first baseman triggered a five-run rally in the second inning with his 17th homer, helping Bob Gibson pickup his 13th victory. Gibson left in the eighth with a sore elbow after yielding five hits and the Braves closed the gap with three runs in the inning.

Two-run triples by Dal Maxvill and Lou Brock capped the Cardinals' second-inning burst.

Bret Takes Aim on Top Money Mark

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) —Bret Hanover, winner of 54 of 58 starts in less than three years of racing, took dead aim today on Su Mac Lad's world money-winning record for harness horses.

The 4-year-old from the barns of Richard Downing of Shaker Heights, Ohio, became the leading money-winning pacer Thursday night when he picked up $55,000 in the $100,000 Empire Pace at Yonkers Raceway to boost his bank account to $760,352.

Su Mac Lad, the retired trotter, holds the harness racing record of $885,095 and if Bret is to pass him he must do it this year since he'll go into stud service in 1967.

Pacing the 1 1/4 miles in 2:33.2-5 with the last half in 58.4-5 seconds and the final quarter in 28.3-5, Bret finished three lengths in front of Gee Lee Hanover with Tuxedo Hanover third.

Protest Request Not Allowed in Little League

A protest in the Little League was not allowed Thursday night by a board made up of loop managers.

The protest as lodged by the manager of the BPO Elks and involved a "loose" base and an overrule. The play in question occurred during a game with Ralston Purina.

It was ruled that the play in question involved an umpire's decision as to when a base is defined as "loose" and the protest was not allowed.

The Elk manager noted his primary reason in filing the protest was to clarify the definition of a loose base.

Another protest was lodged last night with Youth Baseball officials involving a game with Du Pont and Kochheiser.

A meeting of Pony League managers will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday to rule on the protest. The meeting will be at the main shelter house at Ted Lewis Park.

Rain Washes Out Baseball Action

All action in the Circleville Youth Baseball Program ceased Thursday when rain washed out the diamonds.

Kelly Boyer, Youth Baseball Supervisor, has rescheduled the five tilts. All games, with the exception of the Logan Elm-Lindsey's Bakery tilt, will be staged 10 a.m. Saturday on the same field as previously slated. Logan Elm will meet the Lindsey Bakers 5.15 p.m. Tuesday on the Fairgrounds 1 diamond.

World Swim Group Invites Red Dictator to Contest

WASHINGTON AP) — The World Professional Marathon Swimming Federation says the welcome mat is out for Mao Tse-tung only if he's a swimmer — not a floater.

Following Mao's much-publicized dip in the Yangtze, the federation invited him to enter two 10-mile races to be held in Canada.

The official New China News Agency reported last weekend that the Chinese Communist leader, 72, swam nine miles in the choppy Yangtze on July 16.

Peking distributed a picture of the party chief with some fellow swimmers. It made a big splash on many front pages.

The swimming federation's invitation to Mao was extended by Carlos Larriera of Argentina, president of the group. He invited Mao to enter races scheduled for this weekend in Hamilton, Ont., and in Quebec City on Aug. 13.

"We are told you swam nine miles on July 16 in the excellent time of 1 hour, 5 minutes," wrote Larriera. "This should put you in line for championships in both events, since the record for the 10-mile Quebec swim, set last year by one of the fastest swimmers in the world, Herman Willems of Holland, was 4 hours, 35 minutes."

Gulio Travaglio of Italy established in February a record of 3 hours, 56 minutes for the 10-mile Lake El Quilla race in Argentina, Larriera said.

A federation spokesman said today that since the letter was made public, several persons have suggested that Mao might have been able to lower the world record because of strong currents in the Yangtze River.

The Navy said it did not know the speed of the currents in the river but added they are so strong a ship with twin engines can be held still while going against them.

The spokesman said one person suggested that the currents were so strong that Mao might have covered the nine miles in 65 minutes by floating.

"This all may be true," the spokesman said. "But if he's a swimmer, we want him. If he's a floater, he better stay home."

Roundtown Swimmers 6th In COL Meet

Circleville scored 121 points in the Central Ohio Swim League meet won by Mt. Vernon. Hilltop was second, Upper Arlington third, Delaware fourth, Grove City fifth, Circleville sixth and the Columbus Olympic seventh.

Each of the seven teams had two entries in each event with medals going to the first three places and ribbons to fourth, fifth and sixth. Circleville won 23 medals and 36 ribbons, including three gold first place medals, seven second place medals, 13 third place medals, eight fourth place ribbons, nine fifth place ribbons, and nineteen sixth place ribbons.

Winning first place gold medals for Circleville were Craig Dresbach who earned first in the 50 meter backstroke for boys aged 13 and 14 in a time of 35.8 seconds. Mark Ralston was first in the 50 meter butterfly for boys ages 13 and 14 in a time of 34.6 seconds.

Debbie Shea was first in the 100 meter breaststroke for girls 15, 16, and 17 in a time of 1:31.7. In doing so she broke a pool record and a Central Ohio Swim League meet record for the second time in the day. The old record which Miss Shea set last year was 1:32.3. She broke this in the preliminaries with a time of 1:31.9. In the finals she broke it a second time with 1:31.7.

Thirty Circleville swimmers attended the Delaware Invitational swim meet at Delaware last week but only two made the finals.

Beezie Anderson scored fourth in the 100 yard butterfly for girls 15-16-17. Eric Fortell was sixth in the 40 yard breaststroke for boys 11 and 12.

Practice sessions for the Circleville swim team will be held 8-9 a. m. Monday through Friday.

Bruce Helwag fired a 76 for a 223 total, in fifth place six strokes behind the leader. Steve Helwag is 13 back, coming up with a 76 Thursday after a four-putt seventh green.

Tim Dickinson finished with an 86 for a 240 total, 23 off the pace.

Dickinson teed off at 10:04 a. m. today in the last round. Steve Helwag went at 11:40 a. m. and Bruce Helwag at 12:20 p. m.

Federal Funds Allocated For City, County Schools

A tentative allocation of $135,067.92 in federal funds has been set for Circleville City and Pickaway County Schools for the 1967 school year under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Pickaway County Superintendent of Schools George D. McDowell received notification of the allotment Thursday from the State Department of Education.

The proposed budget shows Westfall School District receiving $49,886.91, Circleville City Schools, $44,242.82, Logan Elm, $23,031.29 and Teays Valley, $17,906.90.

Circleville established a health program and a library improvement program with funds allocated the past six months.

AS PART of the library improvement program, a Saturday remedial reading program was established during the school term. Also, summer school for both elementary and secondary students were established.

Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of city schools, reported all money allocated the Circleville system had been utilized.

The programs proved to be valuable and will be continued for the coming school year, Jacobs noted. He said the projects will be curtailed to some extent since less money will be available and because the programs will be for a year, rather than six months.

Teays Valley, Westfall and Logan Elm established remedial reading programs with Title I funds allocated last year.

The programs ran from February until May. In addition, Logan Elm established a business machines course which was taught this summer. Enough students enrolled to warrant two sessions.

When the money was made available last year, school officials were faced with the problem of establishing new programs in the middle of the school year.

THE PROJECTS, after they were first organized, had to be approved by the state and federal authorities.

In addition, a time limit was set. If not programmed and spent by August the moneys reverted back to the federal government.

Logan Elm had budgeted all of its funds last year. However, because the district was not able to employ teachers with masters degrees and because federal guidelines did not permit them to buy as much equipment as they had budgeted, approximately $6,500 went unspent.

John Henn, executive head, reported the federal funds made it possible for Logan Elm to establish programs not otherwise attainable.

With funds now available, it will be possible to set up a remedial reading course again. However, Henn noted that funds were not sufficient to continue the business machines course.

The school will retain the machines purchased and will be able to utilize them in other programs, Henn said.

THE Westfall District was not able to utilize all of its allocation, primarily because of the teacher shortage.

However Judson Lanman, executive head, reported he was well pleased with the remedial program established in the district.

He noted the program will be continued. In addition, he hopes to be able to establish other projects this year.

Benis Lutz of Teays Valley said his district utilized all but a small portion of the funds available last year. He said the amount not used for the remedial program was so small that nothing else was planned.

Although well pleased with results of the program, Lutz said it may have to be curtailed to some extent since funds available may not be sufficient to operate it for a full year with five teachers.

U.S. U2 Plane Said Missing

PANAMA (AP) — Five American astronaut-recovery planes were alerted for a dawn take off today to search for a high-flying U2 reconnaissance plane that apparently flew with its pilot unconscious on a straight-line course from Florida until it crashed somewhere south of Panama.

The plane, with Capt. Robert D. Hickman, 32, of Alexandria, La., at the controls, took off Thursday morning from Barksdale (La.) Air Force Base on what a spokesman said was "a routine mission."

It was estimated that the plane's fuel was exhausted by midafternoon.

The last radio contact with the pilot was while he was on a southerly course off the coast of Florida. He was supposed to turn east or west between Sarasota and Key West but did not.

"The assumption is that the pilot lost consciousness, possibly due to anoxia (lack of oxygen)," the Pentagon said. The statement added that the aircraft was "under apparent control of the automatic pilot."

A Defense Department spokesman said the last radar contact with the plane was over Panama. U.S. military sources in Panama said efforts to raise Hickman by radio were fruitless.

The air rescue center at Albrook Air Force Base in the Canal Zone organized search operations from Panama south to the Peru-Chile border.

Five planes equipped with special gear for astronaut recovery operations were ordered to the Canal one from Kindley Air Force Base in Bermuda and Homestead Air Force Base in Florida.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman in Lima said it was "pretty far-fetched" to expect that the plane got as far as Peru.

"There is simply a possibility that with the available fuel it could have gone as far as Peru or anywhere along that radius," he said.

Presumably the U2 flew over Cuba if it continued from the Florida Coast on a southerly course. But the Defense Department spokesman said he did not know that the plane had crossed Cuba and added there was "not the slightest indication" of any anti-aircraft missile activity from Cuba.

Appropriate authorities in Peru, Columbia, Ecuador, Panama and Chile have been notified, the Pentagon said.

There was no word on the altitude at which the plane was flying or its destination. It was noted that oxygen insufficiency could result above 25,000 feet, but the U2 can fly far higher than that.

Hickman is the father of six small children two to nine years old. His wife is the former Pauline Ann Cicardo, also of Alexandria.

The U2 first came to public attention in 1960 as a spy plane when the Soviet Union shot down one over its territory. The pilot, Francis Gary Powers, was captured and jailed for spying.

Government Check

Taken from Mailbox

Chief Temple said postal and federal authorities have been notified of the theft.

U.S. U2 Plane Said Missing

PANAMA (AP) — Five American astronaut-recovery planes were alerted for a dawn take off today to search for a high-flying U2 reconnaissance plane that apparently flew with its pilot unconscious on a straight-line course from Florida until it crashed somewhere south of Panama.

The plane, with Capt. Robert D. Hickman, 32, of Alexandria, La., at the controls, took off Thursday morning from Barksdale (La.) Air Force Base on what a spokesman said was "a routine missions."

It was estimated that the plane's fuel was exhausted by mid-afternoon.

The last radio contact with the pilot was while he was on a southerly course off the coast of Florida. He was supposed to turn east or west between Sarasota and Key West but did not.

"The assumption is that the pilot lost consciousness, possibly due to anoxia (lack of oxygen)," the Pentagon said. The statement added that the aircraft was "under apparent control of the automatic pilot."

A Defense Department spokesman said the last radar contact with the plane was over Panama. U.S. military sources in Panama said efforts to raise Hickman by radio were fruitless.

The air rescue center at Albrook Air Force Base in the Canal Zone organized search operations from Panama south to the Peru-Chile border.

Five planes equipped with special gear for astronaut recovery operations were ordered to the Canal one from Kindley Air Force Base in Bermuda and Homestead Air Force Base in Florida.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman in Lima said it was "pretty far-fetched" to expect that the plane got as far as Peru.

"There is simply a possibility that with the available fuel it could have gone as far as Peru or anywhere along that radius," he said.

Presumably the U2 flew over Cuba if it continued from the Florida Coast on a southerly course. But the Defense Department spokesman said he did not know that the plane had crossed Cuba and added there was "not the slightest indication" of any anti-aircraft missile activity from Cuba.

Appropriate authorities in Peru, Columbia, Ecuador, Panama, and Chile have been notified, the Pentagon said.

There was no word on the altitude at which the plane was flying or its destination. It was noted that oxygen insufficiency could result above 25,000 feet, but the U2 can fly far higher than that.

Hickman is the father of six small children two to nine years old. His wife is the former Pauline Ann Cicardo, also of Alexandria.

The U2 first came to public attention in 1960 as a spy plane when the Soviet Union shot down one over its territory. The pilot, Francis Gary Powers, was captured and jailed for spying.

Garden Members Assist Chairman At Flower Show

Mrs. Charles A. Fleming, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, is the Pickaway County Fair Flower Show chairman this year. Assisting her are Mrs. Herman Porter, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. John Beck, Mrs. John Eshelman, Mrs. W. E. Gibson, Miss Florence Brown, Mrs. Harry Kern (retiring chairman) and William Cook. Also on the committee are the Pickaway County Garden Club presidents.

Mrs. Fleming and her committee welcome all arrangers to enter exhibits. She explained that exhibitors are certainly not limited to garden club members.

However, she stated that all of her committee members are garden club people. They are invaluable in setting up the schedule, staging the show and taking registrations as the exhibitors arrive with their arrangements and specimens. In fact they are responsible for the work necessary to make a flower show successful.

THE flower show has been held many different places on the fairgrounds during the 20 years previous to 1966. It has been held in the coliseum many times.

Once, at least, classes were exhibited in staircase fashion on the coliseum bleachers.

At different times the flower show was staged in the small room adjacent to the main coliseum and in a special frame building which housed the grain, fruit and vegetable displays as well.

Last year the show was staged in the cool room under the bleachers at the race track. Both visitors and exhibitors found this to their liking.

According to Mrs. Fleming, the committee is making every effort to better the parking situation for exhibitors. The chairman also emphasized the fact that premium money has increased this year.

Village-Life Museum
BUCHAREST (AP) — Communist Romania boasts a museum to which 223 old farmhouses, village churches and other buildings were transported from all over the country as a shrine to rural traditions and folk art.

The museum contains 17,500 objects used in everyday life by persons in various regions from the 17th Century to today. The houses are full of tools, costumes, furniture, household objects

In order for fair visitors to have a chance to see fresh exhibits the committee has again planned three separate shows. The first will be staged Tuesday by noon of that day; the Junior flower show to be staged by noon Wednesday and the last show will be Thursday.

ORAL COMMENTS will be made by the judges. The public is welcome to sit in for the judging, according to Mrs. Fleming.

Judging will take place at 1 p. m. on the days exhibits are entered.

Junior Fair All Set for Sheep Show

One of the big events rounding out Junior Fair competition is the Sheep Show.

Judging of the event will begin 8:30 a. m. Thursday in the show arena. Howard Bamberg will serve as judge of this year's competition.

Junior superintendents are Tom Hamman, Linda Vance and John Miller.

Sheep classes are:

MARKET I LAMB
1. Individual market lamb 79 pounds and under; 2. individual market lamb 80 to 89 pounds; 3. individual market lamb 90 pounds and over; 4. champion and reserve champion market lamb (first and second of each class competing).

SHEEP BREEDING
1. Market lamb II (pen of three); 2. ewe lamb; 3. ewe, one year and under; 4. ewe two years and over.

Kick That Backfired
GREENSBURG, Kan. (AP)—Bob Martin figures it was horse play that broke his toe. He was examining a horse's hoof when the animal kicked him in the leg.

Martin retaliated with a well-placed kick of his own which broke his toe.

ANGUS STEER — White her brother Tom steadies this Angus, Christy Hawker combs his tail. Christy will enter the steer in the Pickaway County Fair and Tom will display market pigs. Members of the Darby Fine and Dandy 4-H Club, they are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hawker, Route 1, Orient.

Fruit Growers Optimistic Despite Frost, Dry Spell

Pickaway County fruit growers will be given a chance to display the best of their abilities in the 1966 County Fair.

The fruit crop has been hit severely by frost and lack of rain this season. However, area growers are still confident they will come forth with some excellent exhibits.

Paul Ewing will head the committee along with Robert Young and Gene Houser. They remind exhibitors to label entries in respect to variety.

Exhibits will be accepted on Monday and must be in place by 6 p. m. Displays will be released 4 p. m. Saturday. The committee will not be responsible in case of loss or theft.

ALL FRUIT must be grown by the exhibitor in 1966.

Awards will be made on the basis of maturity, freedom from disease, uniformity and trueness of type or variety. Prizes will be awarded according to quality in case of only one entry.

Dandy Entries Expected In Junior Fair Swine Show

Some of the finest swine specimens in the country will be entered in competition next week in the Junior Fair Swine Show.

Judging of the many entries will begin 8:30 a. m. on Tuesday in the show arena. Philip Grover has been assigned the difficult task of judging the young farmers' projects.

Junior superintendents of the show are Brad Thompson, Jim Garrett and Ronnie Justus.

Judging in the ring will be done according to weight in the market classes and breed in the breeding classes.

Garden Members Assist Chairman At Flower Show

Mrs. Charles A. Fleming, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, is the Pickaway County Fair Flower Show chairman this year.

Assisting her are Mrs. Herman Porter, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. John Beck, Mrs. John Eshelman, Mrs. W. E. Gibson, Miss Florence Brown, Mrs. Harry Kern (retiring chairman) and William Cook. Also on the committee are the Pickaway County Garden Club presidents.

Mrs. Fleming and her committee welcome all arrangers to enter exhibits. She explained that exhibitors are certainly not limited to garden club members.

However, she stated that all of her committee members are garden club people. They are invaluable in setting up the schedule, staging the show and taking registrations as the exhibitors arrive with their arrangements and specimens. In fact they are responsible for the work necessary to make a flower show successful.

THE flower show has been held many different places on the fairgrounds during the 20 years previous to 1966. It has been held in the coliseum many times.

Once, at least, classes were exhibited in stairstep fashion on the coliseum bleachers.

At different times the flower show was staged in the small room adjacent to the main coliseum and in a special frame building which housed the grain, fruit and vegetable displays as well.

Last year the show was staged in the cool room under the bleachers at the race track. Both visitors and exhibitors found this to their liking.

According to Mrs. Fleming, the committee is making every effort to better the parking situation for exhibitors. The chairman also emphasized the fact that premium money has increased this year.

Village-Life Museum

BUCHAREST (AP) — Communist Romania boasts a museum to which 223 old farmhouses, village churches and other buildings were transported from all over the country as a shrine to rural traditions and folk art.

The museum contains 17,500 objects used in everyday life by persons in various regions from the 17th Century to today. The houses are full of tools, costumes, furniture, household objects

In order for fair visitors to have a chance to see fresh exhibits the committee has again planned three separate shows. The first will be staged Tuesday by noon of that day; the Junior flower show to be staged by noon Wednesday and the last show will be Thursday.

ORAL COMMENTS will be made by the judges. The public is welcome to sit in for the judging, according to Mrs. Fleming.

Judging will take place at 1 p. m. on the days exhibits are entered.

Fruit Growers Optimistic Despite Frost, Dry Spell

Pickaway County fruit growers will be given a chance to display the best of their abilities in the 1966 County Fair.

The fruit crop has been hit severely by frost and lack of rain this season. However, area growers are still confident they will come forth with some excellent exhibits.

Paul Ewing will head the committee along with Robert Young and Gene Houser. They remind exhibitors to label entries in respect to variety.

Exhibits will be accepted on Monday and must be in place by 6 p. m. Displays will be released 4 p. m. Saturday. The committee will not be responsible in case of loss or theft.

ALL FRUIT must be grown by the exhibitor in 1966.

Mom Proves Dropouts Can Return

YATES CITY, Ill. (AP) — The high school dropout can return better late than never.

Mrs. Eloise McMaster, 33, became a member of the Yates City High School's junior class last fall. She had been away 16 years.

"It is the most unusual and wonderful experience anyone ever could have," she said.

She said there was no particular reason for returning beyond a vague yearning for more formal education.

Her daughter, Georgia, 15, is only one class behind her, and a son, Fred, 8, attends the local grade school.

Popular Tractor Pulling Contest Starts Monday in Grandstand Area

The first big grandstand attraction of the 1966 Pickaway County Fair is the popular tractor pulling contest scheduled to begin at 4 p. m. Monday.

The first session of the pull, the speed pulls, will be held on the track in front of the Grandstand. The Tug pulls will be held beginning 10 a. m. Tuesday on the course located between the livestock barns and the race track.

In the speed pull, the tractor and contestant begin by pulling an empty sled over a specified course.

At regular intervals along the route, people step on the sled until the tractor spins out or until the course is completed.

IN THE tug pull, a predetermined amount of weight is placed on the sled and the tractor and operator start from a standstill, and are required to pull a specified distance.

The tractor pulling contest annually attracts many entries and sometimes lasts far into the night.

In the speed pull there will be four classes from tractors ranging from 4,000 pounds to those weighing 13,000 pounds.

The tug pull also has four weight classes for tractors of 4,500 pounds to those weighing 12,000 pounds.

The contest is sponsored by the Central Ohio Tractor Pulling club. Officers of the Club are Logan Campbell, president; Steve Rittinger, vice president; Paul Dean, secretary-treasurer.

The contest chairman for the fair is Francis Clark. Robert Dick and Ross Bidwell are members of the committee.

THE CONTEST is open to anyone who is capable of driving a tractor.

Only tractors on rubber wheels are eligible.

The distance of the pull will be 15 feet at one hitching. The start is to be made with a tight chain, three to four feet in length.

Contestants will be given two trials to move any load the given distance. Contestants may choose either end of the sled for the second trial providing the boundary limits permit.

Ten minutes will be allowed to contestants to repair any breaks.

The sled must be hitched to a stationary drawbar on the tractor, which cannot be more than 20 inches above the ground. The point of hitch must be behind the axle.

ANY DRIVER who knocks weights off the sled with his tractor during trial will be disqualified for that pull.

The use of fluid in tires is permitted. All weights added must be regulation manufactured equipment or equivalent wheel and frame weights.

The judges shall have full power to decide all questions arising in connection with the contest subject to the rules and administrations as provided. In any event not covered by the rules, the judges shall have full power to decide in a manner that is fairest under the rules.

FAILURE to comply with the directions of the judges shall result in immediate disqualification of the contestant.

All contestants participate at their own risk.

Speed pull starts are to be made at 3½ miles per hour or the next higher gear, based on manufacturer's specifications at rated engine rpm. Ration between rear axle rpm and engine rpm must be constant during the pull — to down shifting of any kind is permitted.

Power assists are to be mounted so that the additional power created is through the engine. No auxiliary motors are allowed.

Only one pull allowed per driver unless a tie is declared in the speed pull.

All contestants under 21 years of age shall have written permission from their parents or guardian agreeing that the Pickaway County Agricultural Society or committee in charge will not be responsible in case of accident to a contestant.

WHEN the front wheels of the tractor have moved 24 inches or more above the ground surface, that pull is voided.

The five winning tractors with the heaviest driver must weigh out. Tractors are to be rechecked after the pull if there is any question of rule violation.

The first place winner will receive a trophy plus $20. Second prize money is $15, third is $10 and fourth is $5.

Old-Fashioned Fire

LOUISVILLE (AP) — An old-fashioned method solved the problem for the Louisville Fire Department during a blaze at an apartment.

The department brought along such modern equipment as fog, dry powder, foam and carbon dioxide.

But when firemen entered the building, they found the blaze was caused by an overheated coffeepot.

IT'S A DRIVING RAIN—Ford engineers developed this take-it-with-you cloudburst, shown at the Proving Ground in Dearborn, Mich. The idea is, the car gets a better leak test while on the move. The water is sprayed under 50 pounds pressure.

Mrs. Blaney To Display Her Skill

Mrs. Elizabeth Blaney will show her skill of spinning flax into thread, as a part of the exhibit of the Pickaway County Historical Society at the County Fair.

Her grandson, William Blaney, will operate a small loom, weaving the spun flax into cloth.

Historical Society spokesmen said spinning and weaving as a basic part of our heritage always interests those who have never experienced the use of a spinning wheel and the loom. There were basic necessities of an earlier day.

In addition, Mrs. Blaney will exhibit certain handmade dolls. This display will include a most unusual "Peddler Doll."

THE HEAD, face and the hands of the doll are made of crumbs, giving a fleshlike appearance. Quilted material will be used for part of the costume, with miniature tools and household gadgets used around the household being attached to the apron.

Peddler dolls represent the early-day "peddlers" and will be a most unusual exhibit.

Noisy Scrub Finds Home In Australia

PERTH (AP) —One of Australia's rarest birds, the noisy scrub bird, has forced the West Australian State Government to abandon plans to establish a new town.

The town, Casuarina, was to have been in the heart of the noisy scrub bird country near Albany, 300 miles south of Perth.

The dropping of the proposed townsite, which was announced in an issue of the Government Gazette, is a victory for the wildlife conservationists in Western Australia who have been trying to preserve the area as a fauna reserve.

The noisy scrub bird was first identified by ornithologist John Gould in 1843 from specimens collected in the area. Between 1889 and 1961 the bird was neither seen nor heard, but it reappeared and was positively identified at Christmas 1961.

There are believed to be about 40 pairs of the birds in the area. The noisy scrub bird is extremely elusive and the male has a call like the crack of a whip.

Mrs. Elizabeth Blaney will show her skill of spinning flax into thread, as a part of the exhibit of the Pickaway County Historical Society at the County Fair.

Planning Ahead

NEENAH, Wis. (AP) — A local firm reports that it is getting its material ready for orders expected 33 years from now.

Seedlings planted this year, says A. G. Sharp, senior vice president of Kimberly - Clark, will by 1999 be harvested and used to produce books, newspapers, tissue products, etc. Paper production by then is expected to be about triple its current output, with Americans using 140 million tons of paper a year. Contrast that with the 50 million tons for 1966.

Her brother, John, acts as "judge" in the preliminary showing.

Junior Fair Beef Judging Will Start Wednesday

An Ohio State University specialist in extension work has been named judge of the Junior Fair Beef Show for the second consecutive year.

Randall Reed, Columbus, will be confronted with the task as judge again this year. Jerry Jenkins and Debbie Ankrom will be in charge of the event in the capacities of junior superintendents.

Steers will be judged starting at 8:30 a. m. on Wednesday in the show arena. Any beef breed is eligible to compete in the steer feeding class.

THE BEEF SHOW, along with other Junior Fair livestock events, will be climaxed on Friday evening with the annual livestock auction.

Special steer awards and the donor in each division are: First cup, donated by Bowling Livestock Co., in each breed; grand champion steer, trophy, donated by The Circleville Publishing Co.; reserve grand champion steer, junior fair trophy donated by The First National Bank, champion dairy steer, award donated by The Third National Bank.

Beef breeding will be judged immediately following the steer classes. Order of judging will be Angus, Hereford, and shorthorn.

Classes of competition for Junior Fair breeding are: junior calf, calved on or after Jan. 1, 1966; senior calf, calved Sept. 1, 1965 to Dec. 31, 1965; summer yearling, May 1, 1965 to Aug. 3, 1965; junior yearling, Jan. 1, 1965 to April 30, 1965; senior yearling, May 1, 1964 to Dec. 31, 1964; beef cow, calved prior to May 1, 1964.

The American Polled Hereford Assn., Kansas City, Mo., will award a special plaque to the exhibitor of the best Polled Hereford Heifer in the junior division of the fair.

THE OUTSTANDING club group of four beef animals will be selected immediately after the judging of the breeding classes. The A & P Tea Co. will donate the trophy award.

The junior beef showmanship class is limited to members who were less than 14 years of age on Jan. 1, 1966. Previous winners are not eligible. Premiums will consist of: first, trophy; second, $5; third, $4; and fifth, $2; and sixth, $1. Donor of awards is the Pickaway Grain Co.

Senior beef showmanship is limited to those 14 years of age or over on Jan. 1, 1966. Kingston Farmers Exchange Inc., will present a plaque to the winner.

In the showmanship classes, each contestant must fit and show his own entry. The animal which is used in showmanship must be the same one shown in a breeding or market class.

During the contest the exhibitor may be asked by the judge to trade animals with another contestant. In making the awards, fitting will count 50 per cent and showmanship 50 per cent.

Fitting includes condition, quality, and finish of the animal and the cleanliness of hide, hair and hoofs.

SHOWMANSHIP includes appearance of the exhibitor, equipment used to show the animal and ability to properly move and pose the animal as directed by the judge.

County Fair Again Setting For Needlework Contest

En garde all knitters and crocheters. It's National Wool Needlework Contest time again.

Knitters and crocheters in this locale will have the opportunity to participate in the nationwide competition by submitting their entries for local judging at the Pickaway County Fair Aug. 1-6.

Now in its fourth successive year under the co-sponsorship of the National Hand Knitting Yarn Assn. and the American Wool Council, the National Wool Needlework Contest will again be open to all non-professional knitters and crocheters who will have the opportunity of rolling their balls of wool yarn, along with their knitting needles or crochet hooks, into a chance at national fame via the Contest.

At the local level, participants will be offered six different categories, three each for knitting and crocheting, with a blue ribbon award in any of these categories making the winner eligible to enter the winning design in the national finals being held in New York in December 1966.

The grand national champion, who will be chosen by a judging board of nationally recognized authorities in the Art Needlework and fashion field, will receive a grand national prize of $1000, a trip to New York for two, including a three-day stay and a special engraved trophy. Other national winners, in addition to the grand national champion, will also receive cash awards and ribbons.

The categories in which designs may be entered at the Fair include afghans, sweaters, and three-piece baby sets, with each category repeated for both knitting and crocheting. There is no limit to the number of categories entered by a contestant or the number of designs entered in a single class. A first place blue ribbon award will be made by the Fair's judges in each of the six categories. In addition, one of the blue ribbon winners at the Fair will be adjudged "Best of Fair" and will receive, in addition to the first place ribbon, a special engraved trophy. Second and third place winners in each classification will be awarded a red and white ribbon respectively.

The names of the six first place winners selected by the Fair will then be sent by the Fair to the National Hand Knitting Yarn Association which will supply the winners with complete information and of official forms for entering their winning designs in the national finals.

All articles submitted for judging the 1966 National Wool Needlework Contest must be knitted or crocheted of 100 per cent wool or mohair yarn, purchased in the United States. Entries must have been completed since Jan. 1, 1966, and each entry must carry one label of the yarn used.

County Fair Termed Index Of Community Prosperity

The success of a county fair is the index of prosperity, intelligence and wealth of the community it serves.

This is the theme followed by members of Pickaway County's Agricultural Society in their preparation for the 1966 Fair here. They feel the entire community is on display during the week-long event.

The accent is on agriculture achievement attained by adults and youths alike.

Agricultural Society functions are directed by a board of officers and directors. Serving again as president is Charles Rose of Deercreek Twp.

Directors are elected by members of the Society. Membership is open to all residents of Pickaway County at a cost of $2 per year.

Membership entitles admission to the Fair and voting privileges. Balloting for new directors is held in the latter part of each year when seven new officials are named to serve three-year terms.

Board members whose terms expire Jan. 1 of 1967 are Glenn McCoy and Wayne Martin, Circleville; Ralph McDill, Circleville Twp.; Mostyn Garrett, Darby Twp.; Lloyd Minor, Jackson Twp.; Robert Baum, Harrison Twp.; Emmerson Brown, Walnut Twp. Those whose terms expire

Jan. 1, 1968 are: Dale DeLong and James Ford, Circleville; Ross Bidwell, Scioto Twp.; Harley Evans, Perry Twp.; Kenneth Shell, Monroe Twp.; Charles Rose, Deercreek Twp.; Francis Clark, Muhlenberg Twp.

Union Finds Modern Way To Picket

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A labor union has gone modern and devised a method of picketing at the nation's space center which takes the strain off the feet.

Instead of marching back and forth with picket signs, members of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees have hired an airplane to tow a banner "airing" their complaint.

The banner reads: "RCA Unfair."

Members of the union have been involved in a contract dispute with RCA since 1964 but have not been staying off the job.

Wild Turkey In Hurry

WILLOW SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—Bob White had no more than sounded his turkey call when a big tom headed toward him over the hill about 100 feet away, coming lickety split.

White said the bird's onrush caught him unprepared. The wild gobbler thundered by so fast and so close the hunter's turkey call went one way and his gun the other.

"I was five minutes finding my turkey call in the brush," White said. "That doggone tom must've heard some hen, and he was going to beat all the other birds there."

ANY REGRETS, JIM?—The unhappy looking fellow in the foreground is Jim Brown, retired fullback of the Cleveland Browns, resting on an English hillside as he awaits the next scene of a movie in which he plays a part. Maybe Jim's thinking about his former teammates who are now cavorting on the greensward at Hiram, Ohio, where they are in training for the pro grid season.

Zehner Antiques To Be Part of Historic Display

The Pickaway County Historical Society, as part of its display at the County Fair, will show the antique phonographs and recordings of the collection of Carl Zehner Jr.

Evolution of the old Edison Gramophone into the modern hi-fi recording outfits of today is a subject of interest to old and young alike.

Young Zehner, son of Pastor Carl Zehner, 131 E. Mound St., began collecting the recording devices six or seven years ago. It began when he discovered an old Edison Gramophone in the attic of the parsonage.

The ancient gear needed repairs and young Zehner began to fix it up with whatever spare parts could be found. An interest in old gramophones and music boxes began to develop. As an outcome, the fondness has developed into a business.

THE Historical Society, seeking to present memorabilia of years ago, is proud to be able to use as part of its exhibit the music boxes and phonographs, and other artifacts of this outstanding collection.

Some of the old phonographs and music boxes date back to 1860. Together with the music machines, the collection includes many thousands of discs and cylinders which feature artists such as Circleville's own Ted consist of 10 ears. Premiums are, first, $2.50; second, $1.50; third, $1. Varieties are large yellow, large white, large black, small yellow, small white, small black, strawberry and any other variety or mixed colors.

Artists may enter as many classes as they desire, but only one entry can be made in any one class. All entries must be in place at the Coliseum and registered by 5 p. m. July 31. Entries will be accepted between 1 and 5 p. m. only.

ACCORDING to the rules set down by the art league, all exhibits must be the work of the exhibitor and must be original. Only articles not previously exhibited in a Pickaway County Fair will be accepted for exhibition. Soiled or defaced articles will not be accepted.

In classes where no competition exists, or if, in the opinion of the judges, an article exhibited is not worthy of first award the judges may award second place, third place or no award. Awards will be paid di-

TV Is Popular With Seminoles

MIAMI (AP) — The U.S. Indian Bureau gradually is persuading the Seminoles living in the Florida Everglades to move from their thatch Chickees into more modern housing.

Electric stoves and refrigerators are provided with the new homes, but these appear to have far less appeal than television sets, which are not provided.

Some Seminoles have bought sets while they continue to cook outside over an open fire.

Canned Scream Becomes Squeak

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Australian canned screams — designed for use by women if they are attacked — had a deflated debut in South Africa.

Australian trade commission representative John Brodie sent for a sample can to try and sell the idea in South Africa. The can, named "Aida," is filled with compressed air which shrieks when released by pressing a button.

"But when the can arrived here the South African customs opened it and let out all the compressed air. Now all I can get out of it is squeaks," said a disappointed Brodie.

Boat Trailer Tires Now Match Car's

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you know there is now a white sidewall tire made especially for boat trailers?

Since four out of five passenger cars today are equipped with white sidewall tires, the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company thought it only fitting that boating enthusiasts who use a trailer to transport their boats would have "matching" tires.

A recent study showed that about 32 million pleasure boats are hauled to and from the water on boat trailers, the company said.

The new boat trailer tire is made to run on lower air pressure, thus reducing "bounce" on the highway. And it will travel easier on sand and in soft footing areas.

Goodyear says the recommended air pressure for the new trailer tire is 40 pounds—considerably less than the 65 pounds recommended for the conventional trailer tire. And this new tire is tubeless, thus reducing danger of a flat.

Clergyman Has Advice For Speeders

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An Anglican clergyman has suggested suitable hymns for drivers who have the urge to speed.

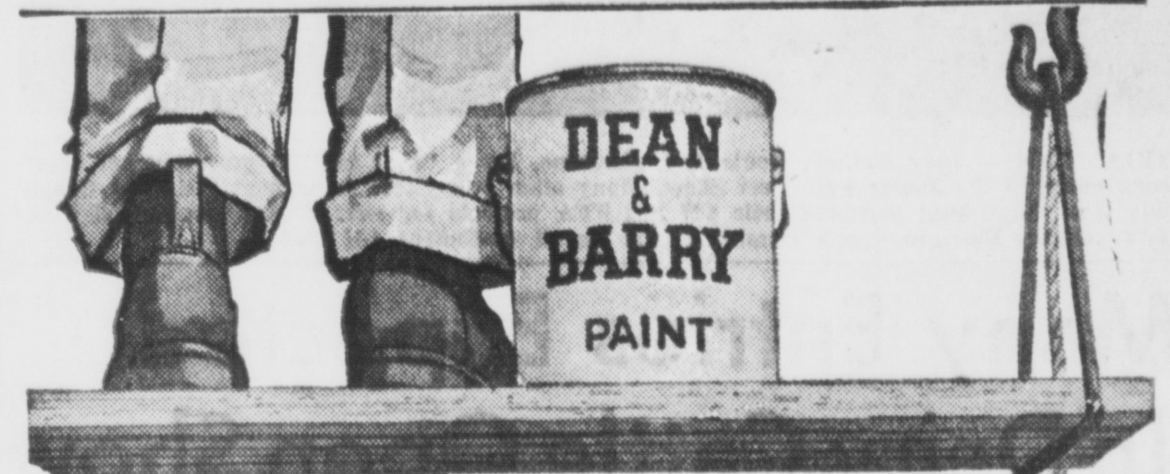

The Rev. Gerald Short, editor of the "Vineyard," official organ of the Anglican Diocese of Natal Province, proposed: At 75 miles an hour: "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

At 85 miles an hour: "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There."

At 95 miles an hour: "Lord, I'm Coming Home."

TRIAL RUN — Judy Gutheil, Route 1, Lockbourne, has a "trial run" in grooming her short-horn entry in the Junior Fair Beef Show. Many other youngsters throughout Pickaway County this week have been prepping their 4-H and FFA projects for next week's 21st annual Pickaway County Fair. Judy is a member of the Duvall Go-Getters 4-H Club.

Livestock Sale Is Thrill For Youthful 4-H Growers

Perhaps the most thrilling aspect of the County Fair for youngsters owning 4-H livestock market projects is the annual sales event conducted by the Bowling Stock Yard.

The steer sale will be held beginning 8 p. m. Thursday. The sheep and hog event is scheduled 8 p. m. Friday.

Last year 124 steers were sold to buyers at an average price of $3.87 per hundredweight.

The grand champion steer was purchased by Charles Hill of Scioto Downs at $112 per hundredweight. Weighing 975 pounds, it returned $1,092 to its owner.

Wildlife Award To Be Given at County Fair

The 1966 Wildlife Conservation Award for Pickaway County will be presented 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Grandstands, according to Russell Tippet, county game protector.

The award is made to the landowner in each county of the state who has made the most outstanding contribution in the field of wildlife management and recreation.

Last year's winner was James B. Trimmer. He was also the winner for the district.

Theft of Signs Causes Accidents

DALLAS (AP) — The growing number of automobile accidents at construction sites may be due in part to vandalism and the theft of barricades, signs and other safety markers, the Southwestern Insurance Information Service reports.

Jack Sanders of San Antonio says in a study for the service that the problem was serious enough to require emergency measures during the last legislative session.

Texas legislators passed a law making it unlawful to tamper with any construction safety device. A fine as high as $1,000 and imprisonment are possible penalties.

Deer Still Cavort in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The deer and the antelope may no longer play hereabouts, but the deer still cavort.

Two wild deer recently disrupted neighborhoods in Kansas City. One of them bounded around 35 minutes before it was subdued by a tranquilizer dart and transported out of town.

Another has proved more elusive. It is believed still making its home in a brushy, wooded suburban sanctuary.

"I wouldn't be surprised that it stays there indefinitely," said conservation agent Jesse Flasing.

Who Wants Pachyderm?

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Knoxville's City Council is pondering the problem of a portly pachyderm who is peerless in his ability to pack away provisions.

In short, Diamond literally is eating himself out of house and home at the zoo.

The council indicated that the elephant's daily diet of five bales of hay, five gallons of oats, a stalk of bananas 14 loaves of bread and a few crates of lettuce is too much for the city to provide.

They agreed to give Diamond away if necessary.

One problem remains: Who wants him?

Historical Society Members To Greet Display Visitors

Members of the Pickaway County Historical Society will serve as hosts and hostesses when the organization presents numerous exhibits during the County Fair.

Representatives of the society will be on hand to greet visitors all six days of the Fair. Serving on the welcome committee are:

Aug. 1 — Mrs. Rae Bales and Miss Marie Hamilton, 5 to 9 p. m.

One of the largest livestock shows of the Pickaway County Fair is the Dairy Cattle Open Show, under the direction of Mostyn Garrett. Judging is scheduled to start 12:30 p. m. Wednesday.
